DRY-DOCK BUSINESS.

A Consolidation to be Affected by Wall-street Capital.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
NEW YORK, July 17.—A local paper says that the stockholders in the various drydock companies in this vicinity have been informed by circular that the control of their properties had been bought by a combination of capital represented by W. P. Shaw of Wall street. It is proposed to consolidate all interests into a single company, and to pay to the original stock a dividend of 2 per cent, annually in the form of rental. Those in control will then assume all expenses. They are said to have two-thirds of the stock in their possession, or within reach, so that consents by the remaining third will be merely formal. by the remaining third will be merely formal.

Profits in the drydock business have been very small. The best-known of them, the Eric Basin, has paid no dividends, it is said. Its present lessee, John N. Robbins, is said to be in the combination man. The other companies interested are the Anglo-American Drydock and Warshouse Company, the New York Floating Drydock Company, and the New York Balance Dock Company, Since competition and low rates are said to have made the business unprofitable for several years, the managers of the new enterprise are credited with an intention to advance rates one-third as soon as they take charge, and thus restore the properties to a dividend-paying basis.

Papers Read on Practical Result Attained by Colleges.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
DENVER (Colo.,) July 17.—The attendance at the second day's general session of the Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations was much larger than yesterday. The proceedings were of much interest. The character of the papers read dealt largely with the practical results accomplished by agricultural colleges and the discussion at times assumed a wide range.

The feature of the morning was the criticism of the compulsory manual system of instruction in vogue at the Agricultural College of Michigan by Prof. Clute of Florida. His theory was that this should be done away with and a more useful system substituted.

Clute of Florida. His theory was that this should be done away with and a more useful system substituted.

This aroused the Michigan delegates and they answered Prof. Clute's remarks with a vigorous defense of the system of their institution. The paper by Prof. A. C. True of the Washington Experiment Station developed considerable interest among the delegates, and his description of the method of work in use there was of great practical benefit. The resolution introduced at the convention last year, changing the name of the association, was laid on the table and will probably not be considered until another year.

This afternoon there was no general session of the convention, but there were aftended meetings of the sections on agriculture and chemistry, mechanical arts and entomology.

ANDERSON (Ind.) July 17.—This section was again visited by a destructive wind and rainstorm today. Trees, amail buildings and large roofs suffered most. At Alexandria, twelve miles north, a new business block was blown down, and some buildings unroofed and flooded. North of here many fields of corn were leveled. The "Big Four" accommodation train arriving here at 8. o'clock had all the glass broken out of the smoking-car. Just east of Fortville the wind sent a big tree toward the track and the top crashed into the car. No one was seriously hurt.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.) LONG BEACH, July 17 .- (Special Dispatch.) A most deplorable cold-blooded murder occurred about 5 o'clock this af ternoon at this place. A young wife lies dead at he hand of her husband and he himself lies at the point of death by his own act. Alonzo C. Meyers did the shooting and now lies dying, having also shot himself.

Meyers owns a ranch near Engle wood. He is said to be a drinking man and has been in the habit of mistreating and has been in the abit of mistreating his young wife, a woman of about 16. A short time ago he beat her severely in a drunken fit of anger injuring her so that she was unable to leave the house for some time. When she was alike to go she went to her sisten fits. Irvin Linson, who lives at the sast end of Thirty-sixth street, University, Los Angeles.

Thirty-sixth street, University, Los Angeles.

About a week ago Linson and wife, accompanied by Mabel, came to Long Beach. On Monday Lon Meyers made his appearance here. Meeting them on the street he walked to the house with them. They entered, leaving him in the yard and refused to allow him to enter the house. He left and was not seen by them again till today when he joined them again, walking home with them. Linson went into the house, the ladies remaining in the yard conversing with Meyers. He shortly called Linson out and, as he approached, drew a revolver and, as he approached, draw a revolver shot his wife, and then fired at Linson, seriously wounding him in the arm. He then shot at Mrs. Linson, who escaped then shot at Mrs. Linson, who escaped by running to the rear of the house. After firing another ball into the prostrate form of his dead wife, Meyers shot himself through the neck, inflict-ing a wound almost identical with that with which Healey and Feeler killed with which Healey and Feeler Killed Elikan in this place some time ago. The murderer was brought to the drug store of Welbourn & Wohlgemuth and placed in charge of Dr. Welbourn. The ball passed through the neck and was re-moved near the collar-button by the doctor. His body is paralyzed, and, aldoctor. His body is paralyzed, and, airhough able to talk very profanely, he cannot live. The place where the shooting was done was a four-roomed cottage on the northwest corner of Elm and First spreets, belonging to Dr. Campbell of San Bernardino. The dead man lies in one of the rooms await. ing the coming of the Coroner, who has

The work was done with a 44-caliber revolver. Linson's wound is a serious one, the ball entering the front of the arm midway from the wrist to elbow, piowing through the ulna for about four inches and passing out near the el-bow. He has been subject to hemorr-hages of the lungs and is now lying low with serious congestion. Dr. J. W Wood was called and arrived within a few minutes after the shooting and is giving the wounded man constant attention.

A Times reporter personally interviewed the murderer, who, though lying in the shadow of death, talked freely in answer to questions, mingling much profanity with what he had to say. He claimed that a man named Frank, he claimed that a man named Frank, he did not know his last name, had come to Long Beach with his wife; that he had shot her twice to be sure that she was dead, and that he does not regret the deed. He charges Linson with being a gambler and with coming to Long Beach to conduct a gambling house. He says that he did not wish to

The statement of infidelity on th part of his wife by Meyers upon invitigation seems to be totally with foundation, the man Frank being s ply a creation of the murderer's brain.
Much excitement has been caused in this peaceful summer city by the sea by this deplorable affair.

THE CORONER WENT DOWN THE CORONER WENT DOWN.
News of the Long Beach tragedy created considerable excitement in Les Angeles yesterday evening. The first reports received were considerably exaggerated. Coroner Campbell was notified by telephone early in the evening, but too late to catch the last train for the beach. He, therefore, secured a buggy and drove down. Meyers, the murderer, it is alleged, was formerly a hack-driver in this city. Irvin Linson, who was wounded in the arm, is well-known here, and, although reputed to be a professional gambler, has many friends and is considered withal a good-hearted, gentlemanly sort of a fellow.

MURDER AT SALTON

E. H. Hendsch is Shot and Killed by

RIVERSIDE, July 17.—(Special Dispatch.) Word was received in this city by Sheriff Johnson yesterday evening from Salton, this county, announcing that E. H. Hendsch was shot and killed that E. H. Hendsch was shot and killed at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, by J. Gardner, and asking that he and the Coroner come at once to the scene. The dispatch also contained the information that Gardner, after doing the shooting, had taken to the brush and had not yet been apprehended. The telegram was signed, Joseph Brown.

The telegram was the later as hour.

The telegram came at too late an hour to allow of the officers going out by train last night, and the start for Salton was delayed until this morning, when Acting Coroner Mills, Assistant District Attorney Crowe, Deputy Sherinf Dickson, W. H. Hendsch, brother of the murdered man, and S. T. Peiton, stenographer, started on the motor for Salton, which place they will reach about the middle of the afternoon. The mining suit, mentioned in The Times yesterday as having been decided by Judge Noyes, in which J. S. Crawford, E. H. Hendsch, et al., were defendants, and one Adams plaintiff, is supposed to be the immediate cause of the murder. In the course of the trial of the case, it was developed that Adams had discovered the mine in dispute, the Granite, but failed to locate the same, and that afterward, Crawford, Hendsch, Bowles and others located the mine and had spent much time and money in developing the same. The mine was reported to be rich, and Adams, seeing what he had lost, sought to gain possession by this suit, and Gardner took an active interest in trying to help Adams win the case, possibly for a consideration. Since the mine was located Gardner has been much about the mine, and made inspections as to its value, and at one time got into a wordy alternation with one Fellx Lohrer, engaged at the mine, in which, W. F. Hendsch, a brother of the murdered man, interfered just in time to prevent Gardner at that time drawing his revolver and shooting Lohrer.

Judge Noyes's decision yesterday was in favor of the defendants, and the word was immediately telegraphed by Attorney L. Gill of this city, who was one of the attorneys for the defendance. The telegram came at too late an hour to allow of the officers going out by Judge Noyes's decision yesterday was in favor of the defendants, and the word was immediately telegraphed by Attorney L. Gill of this city, who was one of the attorneys for the defense, Crawford. Hendsch et al., and the telegram had just about time to reach the mine when the shooting occurred. The mine is located about six miles from Salton. The Mine is located about six miles from Salton. The Emterprise was in error this morning in saying that Wilfred M. Peck was engaged in the case-at-law and telegraphed the decision of the judge, Mr. Gill was the local attorney in the crand entitled to the credit of working the details upon which the cause was won. J. S. Callen of San Diego and J. M. Lucas of Los Angeles were associates in the case with Mr. Gill.

The description of the murderer is given as follows: O. J. Gardner—a man about 5ft. 10in. tall, and weighing from 176 to 180 pounds; heavy set, with large full face, prominent nose, small gray yes and hair and complexion light. The face is very much powder-marked and bears what appears to be a giusabot wound under one eye. Age from 35 to 40. A mining man and of an irascible disposition. He is supposed to have made his flight on a mule or horse. The mining camp where the murder was committed is at Dos Palmos Springs.

Horr Accuses Harvey of Anachronisms.

Ancient History Threshed Over to Make a Point.

The Latter Retorts That the Other is Trying to Mix Up the Subject.

That Crime of Twenty-two Year Are Brought Forth-Mr. Gunn

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) CHICAGO, July 17.—The Harvey Horr meeting today developed into general engagement, representatives of Philadelphia, Kansas City, Cleveland, and elsewhere pitching into the scrim-mage after the two principals had hacked each other up to the limit. The outsiders who ventured into the fight included O. B. Gunn, E. B. Starr, and E. F. Bliss. The hostilities of the day began by Horr remarking in a pointed manner that Harvey "read an essay here yes terday upon the condition of the world during the fifteenth century, especially up to the discovery of America in 1492. He read that statement without its hav-ing been called out at all by me, as I had not attacked that part of his book. But he made such an elaborate effort to show the condition of things in the world from 1400 to 1530 that I have taken a little pains to find out if I could whether there is any truth in the repre entation that he makes, and I find that history leaves him in as bad a condi-tion in this regard as it does in regard to the bulk of the statements in 'Coin's to the bulk of the statements in 'Coin's Financial School.'" Continuing, Horr quoted Prof. Thoroid, Rogers, Hallam, Leber, Malthus, Hyndman and others to show that the lot of the millions in Europe arising before 1492 and that of the feudal aristocracy, with its tyranny was crumbling to a fall. Horr said:

"Mr. Harvey and his free-silver friends identify prosperity and the progress of man with the lot of the feudal nobility of Europe, and not with that of the toilers. Rogers, as well as Hallam, speaks of 'the gradual elevation of the people themselves as opposed to the small number of rich and noble. Later I shall show that in his treatment of the present, as of the past, Mr. Harvey stands as the exponent of the rich, and not of the toilers, whose welfare should first be considered by the legislature of the State,"
Harvey replied:
"When I volunteered to explain the preface to the 'School' yesterday without waiting for it to be attacked, because gold-standard papers all over the United States had charged that it was a forgery; that no such quotation as was there used was ever made from the report of any monetary commission or any other official document, I read from the report of the United States Mone.

there used was ever made from the report of any monetary commission or any other official document, I read from the report of the United States Monetary Commission of 1876, not for the purpose of entering into an argument on the political economy of the years 1400 to 1500, but simply to show that all of my friends from New York and elsewhere who had accused me of forgery were wrong.

"Now I am not going to argue with Mr. Horr that the monetary commission did not know what they were talking about. He shall not get me at any point of this debate to divert my mind from the regular argument and logical arrangement of the debate. That man arrangement of the debate. That man who could put together words that would convince an unthinking working man that he was better off today by far than he was in 1872, and who can convince a farmer that he is getting higher prices now than he was in 1872. I would expect to convince a crowd who are not studying history that prices rose during the dark ages at the very time they were falling, and that laboring men were faring well at the very time when they were working as the serfs of the lords of Europe. Dr. Adams Smith, an able historian, whose work I put into Mr. Horr's hands vesterday, Smith, an able historial, whose work put into Mr. Horr's hands vesterday, confirms all that there is in that monetary commission. Page 117 gives you the table of the rise of prices that contradicts everything that Mr. Horr has confirms all that there is in an indeal tary commission. Page 117 gives you the table of the rise of prices that contradicts everything that Mr. Horr has said here.

"Thus far we have considered two questions, gold and silver, as the money of the Constitution and the unit of value in our monetary system fixed by the framers of the Constitution, and that which existed as our monetary system from 1792 to 1873. The debate is of value thus far in eliminating the doubt that has existed on these two points in the minds of the people, a doubt that has been produced by misrepresentations made by those advocating the gold standard. A reading of the debate thus far settles these two questions in favor of the book we are discussing."

Horr. The matter we were talking about when we closed last night was the question whether the framers of the bill of 1792 intended to establish two measures of value. Mr. Harvey criticized Judge Vincent for having decided that case in his remarks yesterday, but very tamely in comparison with the staetments which he made about him in print soon after he made the decision; he even called him dishonest in that criticism. Now, Judge Vincent is a reputable citizen, I take it, of Chicago. Some private individuals submitted a question to him and he decided it as he honestly believed was right, and there is this peculiarity about it, it is right. (Laughter.)

Here is what Judge Vincent decided: It is undoubtedly true that the milled dollar, as it was then current, was the starting-point and the number of grains that composed a gold dollar was ascertained by dividing the number of grains in the silver dollar by fifteen. But this does not alter the fact that the units were expressed in gold and silver. On the contrary, it seems to show that both were made units of value. The word unit was employed as the equivalent of dollar, and the dollar was to consist of either one or two different things, one-tenth part of 24½ grains of gold or 371½ grains of silver, just as equal values may be embodied in giving

Harvey. Yesterday at the close after I had quoted as authority for silver being the unit the utterances of Secretary Gallatin, a decision by Chief Justice Chase of the Supreme Court of the United States and other numerous authorities, including Roswell G. Horr of New York, Mr. Horr then admitted that the silver dollar was the unit of value, and the record of yesterday shows that. Now I note his attempts to try to twist something back into the discussion by which we are to believe him as saying one thing yesterday and something else today. I leave him to such fate as the readers of this debate think proper. (Applause.)

In his constant attempt to try to discuss bimetallism the relation of silver and gold, and before we get to that which is in the second chapter of the "School" he is trying to mix the subject up. When we get there we will see that neither Mr. Horr nor Judge Vincent knows what bimetallism is, and many things that he is now mixing up will then be cleared, and Mr. Horr will be even a babe. (Applause.)

We agreed to take up the subject of the demonetization, the act of 1873, in today's debate, and having waited for him to begin, and he not beginning, I now will start. (Applause.)

Horr. I beg pardon, you misquote me. I stated last night that I had not got through with the unit of value; that I had some other things to submit In so many words, and we did not agree to take up any other subject at any particular session, only that we would take them in a certain order and let them run until we had finished them.

Harvey. And in that order the crime of 1873, as we call it, came next after the discussion of the unit.

Horr. I am not through with that yet.

Harvey. Well, I am, and I will go or Harvey. Well, I am, and I will go on. (Laughter.) Harvey then discussed at length the act of 1873, and Aorr followed on the same subject.

Harvey. Mr. Horr says that I have no proof that the scheme was concocted in London to demonetize silver in the United States. When I was a boy I went into a courthouse one day to hear a criminal trial, and I heard a lawyer say: 'When a crime is committed and you want to detect the criminal, look for the man that is benefitted by the crime.' (Applause.) Reasoning by induction will more invariably locate the criminal than by any human testimony. Silver was demonetized in England and in England only, prior to the day it was demonetized in this country. There was where the movement started, that is another evidence.

London bankers incited the Paris conference in 1857 at which the is another evidence.

London bankers incited the Paris conference in 1867, at which John Sherman was present, therefore, I have the right to say that the conspiracy originated in London. As Mr. Horr says, the science of money is hard to understand. Ever since the money-lenders of the world to say that the conspiracy originated in London. As Mr. Horr says, the science of money is hard to understand. Ever since the money-lenders of the world shackled the people of the world and taught the people that money was hard to understand: (Applause.) that it is one of the difficult things, as Mr. Horr observed in his speech, it gives me a headache to think of it. (Laughter.). And you are not competent to study it or understand it, and as long as they make you believe that they have you in their power.

In 1873, when this treacherous act was passed, there was no specie currency in this country. During all the years from 1792 to 1861, when it was actually in use, and being tested for its merits, no one proposed to demonetize either of the metals except some money-lenders from Europe, who proposed it in 1854. (Applause.) But at that time, 1873, when it was not incirculation and was not needed, the movement was begun and consummated. And, as one Congressman said when the bill was offered in Congress: We are not using gold and silver as money, have not yet considered an act for the resumption of specie payment and the introduction of this bill at the present time either means a trick or is a farce worthy of being caricatured by Thomas Nast.

This closed the debate for the day, and questions were in order. Mr. Bliss questioned Harvey as to figures in his book relative to the coinage of silver previous to 1873. Harvey admitted that he did erroneously state the amount at $37,000,000 less than the amount at all it would stand.

O. B. Gunn of Kansas City caused Harvey to explain at length the amount and denomination of the silver coinage previous to 1873. Questions by the score by many others were asked and answered, but the discussion was of a rambling fiature. The debate will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

A LIVE WIRE.

Two Men and a Small Girl Killed

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) CHICAGO, July 17.—William Pierce was instantly killed and Louis Anderon and Ruth Hart, the latter 6 years old, were seriously injured in a peculiar manner tonight at Evanston. Tuesday night's storm dismantled nearly all of the electric-light poles in Evanston, and the wires fell everywhere. Yesterday most of them were replaced, but one which had fallen across an iron fence was overlooked. The two men were delivering ice at the point where this wire was left, and while Anderson was going into the yard Pierce sat down on the fence to rest. His hands and clothing were wet, and the instant he touched the fence he fell across it dead. Anderson went to his assistance, and in attempting to lift the body from the fence formed a circuit with himself, and was rendered unconscious.

The Hart girl saw the two men lying on the sidewalk, and went up to look at them. She touched the wire with her hand and was soon lying on the sidewalk with Pierce and Anderson. It is thought Anderson and the Hart child will recover, although they are in a very serious condition. night's storm dismantled nearly all of the electric-light poles in Evanston, and

A Bridge in Process of Rebuildin Previous Vibrations.

Twenty-four Freight Cars with the Engine Are Precipitated into Dirty Woman's Gulch.

The Whole Immense Weight is Piled Upon the Unsuspecting Form of Mrs. Albert Cooper-The Dend and Injured.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
DENVER (Colo.,) July 17.—A special to the Times from Monument, Colo., says that the local freight on the Santa Fe road fell through a bridge at that place today, burying beneath the wreck Mrs. Albert Cooper and a num-ber of the Santa Fe bridge gang, who were rebuilding the bridge. The number killed is unknown, as twenty cars are piled on top of the victims.

As near as can be learned, the local freight loaded heavily with lumber and stone passed over the bridge at 11 o'clock. As the engine neared the south o'clock. As the engine neared the south end the workmen underneath saw the bridge rock, and shouted an alarm to their comrades. Before the danger could be realized the engine and twenty cars came crashing through, burying those who could not get out of the way beneath a crushing weight. Mrs. Albert Cooper, wife of the engineer of the bridge gang, was sitting under the bridge. Her husband shouted to her, but the noise drowned his voice, and it is certain that she is among the killed. The citizens of Monument are working heroically, but not much can be done until the wrecking train arrives.

There were about twenty men in the bridge gang, and it is believed that ten or twelve are under the wreck. These must certainly have been killed. The engineer escaped, but the fireman, conductor and brakeman went down with the wreck. The bridge was across the gulch, a quarter of a mile from town.

It was fifty feet high and about three hundred feet long.

MONUMENT (Colo.,) July 17.—For a month a gang has been at work rebuilding a dangerous bridge on the Santa Fe railway, a quarter of a mile south of town. More than three-quarters of the bridge was rebuilt and still stands intact. At 10:45 o'clock the east-bound passenger train passed over the bridge. The vibrations caused by the train had not ceased when a freight train of twenty-four cars followed.

freight train of twenty-four cars followed.

The train had passed in safety until within three spans of the end when suddenly a trestle gave way and the whole train fell through the opening, piling up in a most frightful mass, grinding the cars into kindling, and heaping the immense weight upon the body of Mrs. Albert Cooper who had just brought her husband's lunch and was sitting under the bridge.

The fearful crash was heard in this town and the people rushed to the scene. Conductor Glaze jumped and escaped, as did Fireman Frye. J. C. Childers, boss carpenter, saw the peril of Mrs. Cooper and jumped off the bridge to save her and was carried under the ruins with her. The bridge was over a gulch known as Dirty Woman's Gulch and was 50 feet high and 200 feet long. It has always been a frail structure and the awful catastrophe of today has frequently been predicted. The work of clearing away the wreck is being pushed rapidly. The killed are:

marized as follows: The condition of apples has been materially lowered since the report of June. Losses have been especially marked in important States having already low conditions, viz. The New England States, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. In the Piedmont Treglan, the outlook is decidedly more favorable. In Missouri and contiguous States the decline has been light, not above 3 per cent. In any case, but the conditions are not quite as high as in the Piedmont orchards. On the Pacific Coast conditions fell about 11 per cent., but the prospects there are still good. Frost at time of bloom, droughts and heavy droppings are the main causes of the impaired prospects.

The peach crop returns are also unfavorable. Georgia and Connecticut alone of the leading commercial States have now a high percentage, the former having moved up to 106, a gain of one point, the latter declining from 94 to 90; New Jersey has lost twelve poluts, and now stands at 73; Delaware thurteen, standing at 70; Maryland has advanced from 63 to 66. The condition of Virginia, 59, is lower than in June by thirteen points. Michigan has prospect of less than half a crop, while Ohio is 22, the lowest of all. In California the condition figures declined from 88 on June 1 to 75 on July 1, Frosts have clean much damage to grapes, especially in the mountain belt and central West.

RESIGNED AS RECTOR.

REV. MCR. O'CONNELL TO ASSIST CARDINAL GIBBONS.

He Will Leave His Post in the Amer Back to His Native Country-His Probable Successor.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) NEW YORK, July 17.—The Herald to-day says that the resignation of Rt. Rev. Mgr. Dennis O'Connell from his office of rector of the American College at Rome has started considerable spec-ulation as to the future of the American prelate and about his sucessor in the prelate and about his successor in the resigned position.

Mgr. O'Connell has been in poor health for some time, and his resignation has been partly asigned to this fact. His uncle, Mgr. Joseph P. O'Connell, pastor of the church of St. Mary, Star of the Sea, Brooklyn, has returned from a brief European trip on the Normandie.

from a brief European trip on the Normandie.

Mgr. O'Connell, who is a son of the late Judge Michael O'Connell of Columbila, S. C., is a protege of the archbishop of Baltimore, He pursued his theological studies in the American college in Rome, where he was ordained a priest in 1877. After a brief tour in the United States he returned to Rome. For the last ten years he has been rector of the school for American priests in the city. In addition he had been engaged in various diplomatic tasks for the American hierarchy, and was a sort of official channel of communication with the Vatican.

One other reason given for his resignation is that he is to be made an auxiliary bishop to help Cardinal Gibbons in the See of Baltimore.

Mgr. O'Connell gave Cardinal Gibbons a banquet in the American collegat Rome on Sunday, June 23. Among the guests were Cardinals Galimbert.

Mazzella and Vanutelli, the bishops of Brooklyn, Hartford and Detroit, with their secretaries, and a number of other American priests.

Mazzella and Vanutelli, the bishops of Brooklyn, Hartford and Detroit, with their secretaries, and a number of other American priests.

The American College was established in Rome by the bishops of the United States under the leadership of Archbishop Hughes in 1859. It was formally opened on December 7 of that year in a former Dominican convent. The money to buy the property, $250,000, came from contributions by United States dioceses.

Rt. Rev. Dr. McCloskey, now bishop of Louisville, Ky., was the first rector. Mgr. Chatard, a Baltimorean, now bishop of Vincennes, Ind., was the second rector; Mgr. Louis M. Hostelot, a New Yorker, who died in office, was the third. Mgr. O'Connell succeeded him. The name of Mgr. John M. Farley, vicar-general, pastor of St. Gabriel's Church this city has been mentioned. The nomination of the candidate will be made by the sychbishops of Baltimore, Boston and Philadelphia and New York. The Rev. Dr. Thomas J. Kennedy and Rev. Dr. Dennis J. Dougherty of Philadelphia, who will sail for Europe next Saturday, are mentioned as probable candidates.

Gov. Richards Applies to Secretary

WASHINGTON, July 17.-The first official report of the trouble between the Bannock Indians and the settlers of Northwestern Wyoming reached the In-terior Department today. In a dispatch to the Secretary of the Interior. Gov

"I have received advices by mail and telegraph reporting the situation as serious. The Indians are Bannocks from Fort Holliday. They were arrested for the illegal and wanton killing of game. Can you take immediate action for the protection of our settlers?" The dispatch has been forward-action for the protection of our settlers?" The dispatch has been forwarded to the Secretary of War.

'Under date of June 17, 1896, Gov. Richards wrote to the Secretary of the Interior in regard to the killing of game by the Shoshone and Bannock Indians. He says that the same trouble occurs every year. The Indians secure passes from the reservation agents to go to distant points for various purposes, and then spend the time hunting.

The Governor says that the county or State should not have the trouble and expense of teaching the Indians to chey the game laws. He asked that they be strictly confined to their reservations. It is unofficially stated at the Indian office that the real trouble in Wyoming is that the Indians are better hunters than the whites in the region, and that the Jedousy of them is the main cause of the trouble. The report of the alleged uprising of the Bannock Indians was received at the War Department today, but no action will be taken further than to notify the department commander to have troops at Fort Washakle in readiness to protect the people and property in case they are wanted.

THE INCOME TAX.

About Fifteen Million Dollars of Re fund is Demanded.

About Fifteen Million Dollars of Refund is Demanded.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The Internal Revenue Buréau has practically completed the work of recording and scheduling the returns received under the income-tax act and very soon will begin the work of refunding the amounts paid before the law was declared unconstitutional. The supplications for refund, however, are coming in very slowly. The aggregate of the returns made represent about $15,000,000 of tax and hence about $30,200,000, tis calculated, would have been collected if all who were subject to the tax had sent in returns.

The first decision of the Supreme Court, exempting rents and receipts from bonds from the operation of the tax, resulted in a loss of fully $15,000,000; so had the law remained as it originally stood, the total receipts would have approximated $45,000,000 or even $50,000 000. These returns, however, seem to indicate that New England and the Middle States would have paid about two-thirds of the whole tax and the Western and Southern sections each about one sixth.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SARATOGA (N. Y.,) July 17.—The story of the day is that of several ex-citing contests and one record-breaker and beautifully-rowed race, the inter-mediate eights. The winning crew, the Wachusetts Boat Club of Worcester, Mass., made the mile and a half in 7m. 33/ss., or three seconds better than the previous best record, made by the Tritons of Newark, N. J. The crews en-tons of Newark, N. J. The crews entered were the Wachusetts of Worcester, the Eurekas of Newark and the Montrose Boat Club.

For the first eighth of a mile the three crews were on even terms, all rowing a forty-stroke. Coming to the quarter the Montrose eight pulled into the Eureka's water and gave them 'their wash, practically putting them out of the race. Up to the mile it seemed as if wash, practically putting them out of the race. Up to the mile it seemed as if the race belonged to Montrose, but after that the Wachusetts, with a clean, telling stroke, simply forced their boat inch by inch past their rivals, and at a mile and a quarter there was a glimmer of clear water between them. To the call of their coxswain the Montrose men responded and within twenty yards of the finish they had lapped the nose of their boat over the stern of the Wachusetts and were still crawling up. The nose of Wachusetts had barely cleared the line when the Montrose reached it. The race was won by a third of a length.

nose of Wachusetts had barely cleared the line when the Montrose reached it. The race was won by a third of a length.

In the pair-oar contest the Pennsylvania crew were the first to catch the water. At the quarter the Pennsylvanias led slightly, and just beyond that flag the Torontos began to steer badly, while the Pennsylvanias, who were erratic at first, had straightened out. At that point the Pennsylvanias were leading, but at the next flag the Torontos were ahead, followed by Pennsylvania, at the mile and an eighth the Torontos had increased their lead a length, sweeping along at thirty-eight strokes. Entering the last section the Pennsylvanias tried to spurt, but the Torontos crossed the line winners by about two and a half boatlengths; time 9m. 48s.

In the intermediate four-oar event all three crews caught the water together, the Winnipegs leading slightly. Both the Winnipegs and the Excelsiors steered out of the course. At the quarter the Winnipegs lead slightly, rowing a clean stroke, while the Metropolitans splashed. At the turn the Winnipegs and Metropolitans turned together, but the former began to draw away, and won by two and a half lengths; time 9m. 3s.

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEWMARKET, July 17.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Michael F. Dwyer, in conversation with a reporter of the Associated Press today, said that he expects to sail for New York early in August with his trainer, Hardy Campbell. At the same time, he added, the reports circulated as to his giving up his training stable here and changing his jockey and trainer, were unfounded. Dwyer has not arranged his plans for 1896 and it is probable he will dispose of his horse Harry Reed before leaving.

Richard Croker, referring to an article in Truth, attributing some comments of the American press upon the alleged treatment of American horses here to "cracked-brain drivers, who are ignorant of the whole subject," informed a representative of the Associated Press today that he had no fault to find with, his treatment on the English turf, his only complaint being against the "inspired" articles in certain London papers.

Simms, the jockey, expects to ride in the United States in the autumn and will leave for New York so soon as his arrangements are completed to prosecute the newspaper which originated the story of his having driven a horse to death in a race against time from Newmarket to Cambridge and back again.

The Evening Standard, commenting upon the appearance of M. F. Dwyer's Don Alonzo looked better than the last time he appeared, but he was not backed like other American good things. His ap-pearance in the paddock, clothed in a huge white sheet, was uncanny and re-minded one of an equine ghost."

DEATH TO FIREMEN.

BIG FIRE IN CINCINNATI WARE. HOUSES.

he Entire Square Bounded by Wal nut, Water, Vine and, Fron Streets in Danger-Two Men Are Killed and More Than Twenty Are Injured.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) CINCINNATI, July 17.—This after CINCINNATI, July 17.—This afternoon an alarm was turned in for a big fire in the five-story hay and feed warehouse of J. H. Hormeson & Co. It spread so as to threaten the entire square bounded by Walnut, Water, Vine and Front streets, and another alarm soon called out the whole fire department. The fames at times came very near reaching buildings across the street. Besides the losses of property two firemen are dead and eighteen are injured.

The fire originated from a match or cigar thrown near the hay. The ware-house went up like an explosion. The fire spread to the Nelson Morris & Co.'s large stables, but their large warehouse stood fire-proof. The adjoining commission and tobacco warehouses, however, went up like piles of kindling wood, causing such a confiagration as to threaten the north end of the suspension bridge. George Brown had 8000 bags of peanuts in his warehouse. They burned like shavings, and with the building went the large tobacco warehouse of Seaman & Co., which was full of tobacco.

When the wails of these warehouses fell the fire spread in all directions, damaging the Western Dressed Pork Company and Henry Hells Sons. The total loss will aggregate about $200,000.

At 2:30 o'clock the Front-street wall fell, killing two and wounding eighteen firemen. Among them Capt. Michael Healy and Thomas W. Wisebay, a pipeman, were killed, and Lieut. F. B. Newman was dangerously and William Grews seriously injured. Twenty other firemen were injured, but not seriously. The fire originated from a match or VAN, June 3.—(Associated Press Correspondence Wired from Chicago, July 17.) The prison of Van, where the Armenian prisoners are confined, is located under the shadow of the city wall and at a point where the ground is so low as to receive the drainage of the rest of the city. Like the other buildings of the city it is built of sun-dried brick laid in the mud. The prison is only a one-story building and with no provision for keeping it dry.

The inner prison consists of six long, narrow rooms, three on each side of a common passageway, into which they open. Each room is about twelve feet wide and from thirty to forty long, has two windows with the outer end and two smaller windows and a door at the inner end opening into the passage. During the last winter from thirty to forty men were crowded into each of these rooms, sleeping on the floor, a row along each wall so that if their feet were a little more than ordinarily extended the two rows would interfere with each other. Sometimes there were twenty-two men in each row, allowing only about eighteen inches for each person.

The five small cells mentioned are damp, dark and entirely unwarmed for winter. A prisoner, Karakeen Pagheshtean by name, was kept in one of these cells for fourteen consecutive months with foot-fetters all the time and with hand and neck-fetters much of the time. Afterward he was removed to one of the inner cells which are even worse than where he now is. He was flogged on an average of once a day.

Apart from the actual butchery of the Armenian situation is the position of the Armenian situation is the position of the Armenian situation is the position of the Armenian women. One cannot investigate this phase on the subject without feelings of rage and horror over the insuits and outrages to which these poor creatures are subjected. After the most careful personal inquiry the correspondent is able to state that in hundreds of villages in Armenia here is hardly one woman, old or young, who is not from time is said to be well known to the Turkish government.

It is the custom of the government to sell to the highest bidder the tax privileges of the various villages, the purchaser having the right to collect all of the taxes from the people. In very many cases teh number of young Armenian women in a village has a great deal to do with the price paid for the tax privilege. When the public sale is made of the tax privilege it is no uncommon thing for the auctioneer to call out in the market place, so that all may hear, that so many girls are available in the village. When a man has purchased the tax privilege of a village he considers that he also bought and paid for the women of the village, and any attempt on the part of the husbands, brothers or fathers to resent this interpretation of the law is looked upon as high treason, punishable with death. If the Armenian men object to this treatment of their women, they are beaten and driven from the villages and in many cases killed.

The tax purchaser is able to make an extra profit out of his village by renting out to his friends among the Turks and Kurds the privilege of making use of such women as he does not want for himself, and Kurds who cannot afford to pay for this privilege content themselves with taking the women by force when the owner of the village is not incurred tremediable disgrace I when the owner of the village is not present. (REGULIR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

LONDON, July 17.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The result of today's polling leaves the different parties in the following condition: Conservatives, 280; Liberal-Unionists, 39; total, Unionists, 269. For Liberals, 65; McCarthyites, 28; Parnellites, 6; labor, 2; total, 101. With fewer polls the Unionists gained four-teen seats, while the Liberals did not gain a single seat.

Their majority again being generally reduced, the Liberals were almost wiped out in London. Out of fifteen contests in the metropolis they jost six seats. The returns from London are now complete, except Wadsworth, which will be declared tomorrow. Out of sixty-two members from the metropolis fifty-three are Unionists and eight Liberals. Conservative majorities have been heavy. The total Conservative gains and Liberals None.

IMPARTIALLY DISTRIBUTED.

NEW YORK, July 17.—A dispatch to a local paper from London says that as the borough results develop it becomes evident that the reaction against the Liberal party is not confined to any issue or locality. Nothing could be more impartially distributed than its evil fortune. The latest list of the losses covers all sorts of electors and smashes another group of ministers, among whom Arnold Morley can be well spared. It is assumed now that Asquith will be beaten in Fife, and probably John Morley in Newcastle, and it is obvious that there will not be safe seats enough left to provide for them all. Harcourt, it is said, will come in from West Monmouth.

The incident worthlest of attention now is that the Liberal who sat for Finsbury has been heavily beaten, and that the Tories in turn elected another Parsee for Bethnal Green. Today the first of the rural districts will begin to vote, and from all one hears they will not do anything to change the current of political drift.

PECULIAR STORY OF THE FALL OF

Renegade Japanese Said to Have Forts and to Have Played into His Countrymen's Hands-His

REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.,) July 17.—The ease with which the Japanese captured Port. Arthur during the recent war with China is explained to some extent by an article in the Japanese Gazette which arrived on the last steamer. According to the Gazette the commander of the Chinese forts was a native of Japan who had acquired favor in Chinese councils through a long residence in the Flowery Kingdom and intentionally caused the shots from the guns to be misdirected, so that they would fall short of the Japanese warships. Having betrayed his adopted land for the land of his birth, the disgraced commander appeared before the victorious Japanese generals, acknowledged his treason and committed suicide in their presence. The article continues:

"When Port Arthur was attacked by the Japanese army and navy the latter, after getting within suitable range, opened fire on the forts near the coast. The batteries on the Hwangchinshan hill answered from heavy guns. These were the strongest forts at Port Arthur, their armament being four Krupp guns of no less than thirty-centimeter caliber. The squadrons, approaching within range of such ordnance, expected a terrible cannonade and were not a little astonished by the weakness of the Chinese resistance. It is true that they opened fire upon the ships, but their shells always fell short of the mark. The sallors supposed this failure to be due to the inferior gunnery of, the Chinese and greeted each shell as it dropped into the sea with loud shouts of derision. The officers, however, were puzzled by a performance to them inexplicable, inasmuch as they knew that the artillery in the forts, whatever the faultiness of its handling, could not possibly lack force. Meanwhile the celebrated naval station of China was stormed from the land side and the defenders of the fort on Hwangchinshan were either killed or taken prisoners, their retreat having been cut off by the invaders.

When the Chinese, who had defended the fort on Hwangchinshan were have incurred irremediable disgrace I should like to ask a special favor namely, that I be permitted to commit suicide in your presence."

Such a request was not only contrary to the ordinary habits of the Chinese.

Such a request was not only contrary to the ordinary habits of the Chinese, but what was far more surprising, it was conveyed in perfectly correct Japanese. One of the officers to whom the captive had addressed himself asked him where he had acquired the Japanese language so well. The prisoner repiled that he was originally a native of Hlogo, whence he crossed over to China many years ago. Subsequently by some chance he attracted the attention of Viceroy Li, who gradually promoted him until at last he was appointed commander of the fort. After making the confession the officer insisted upon committing suicide, notwithstanding the remonstrances of the Japanese generals. Making a profound obelsance, he sat dawn and slew himself according to the strict canons of the Japanese Samurai. The officers were much struck by his manly conduct and caused his remains to be interred with due ceremony.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The assignee of the firm of Potter, Lovell & Co., of Boston today filed a bill of discovery for $3,000,000 against J. V. Farwell & Co.
Potter, Lovell & Co. were stock-brokers, with a capital of $400,000, and at the time of their failure they had assets of $2,000,000 and liabilities about the same. A few days before the failure, it is alleged in the bill, securities valued at $5,000,000 were taken from the firm and secreted. They did a brokerage business with Farwell & Co., John V. Farwell being a stock-holder in Potter, Lowell & Co. from January 1 to August 27, 1890.

It is alleged that before the failure the firm fraudulently appropriated $600,000 more. It is claimed that the Farwells were cognizant of these transactions. It is also alleged that the transfer of a large number of securities was made to the firm of Farwell & Co. and that John Chumasern, a sariner of John V. Farwell, carried these securities out of the State of Massachusetts.

Dr. C. H. Bulson Informs Against the Supervisor.

STOCKTON, July 17.—Supervisor James Brown was on trial today on a charge of accepting a bribe to influence his vote in the acceptance of Architect Rushforth's plans for the new county hospital. Rushforth was induced to give up $1000 of his commissions, amounting to $2400, to get his plans adopted and the money was divided between Dr. C. H. Bulson, the then County Physician: C. W. Ward, then superintween Dr. C. H. Bulson, the then County Physiclan: C. W. Ward, then superin-tendent of the hospital, and Supervisor Brown. But Brown did not vote for Rushforth's plans and favored another plan until 'three of the Supervisors, a majority of the board, had adopted Rushforth's plans. Then, to make the selection unanimous, he voted with the four others.

He was indicted jointly with Ward and, on motion of Dist. Atty. Nutter, the indictment as to Bulson was dismissed. He then told of going to Rushforth and telling him he could have his plans adopted for $1000. Rushforth agreed the next day to the proposition. with Ward and, on motion of Dist. Atty. Nutter, the indictment as to Bulson was dismissed. He then told of going to Rushforth and telling him he could have his plans adopted for $1000. Rushforth agreed the next day to the proposition. When he got his first payment from the county he paid Bulson $500 and Bulson gave Ward $350 of the amount. Bulson says that he skept $150 for himself. The second payment of $500 was collected by Bulson and he paid all but $150 of it to Brown, taking the Supervisor's receipt for $123 for C. W. Ward. The receipt was read in evidence. It says that the $133.35 was for Ward. Bulson said Ward made the first proposition to approach Rushforth.

Ward was brought out of the County Jail, where, he is awaiting his appeal from a judgment in the same case and a sentence of ten years. He hesitated about testifying until assured, that what he might say would not be used against him on another trial. Then he said that Bulson made the proposition to go to the architect. Bulson finally got the money and paid Ward $350, which he divided with Brown. The second payment of $133 to Ward was made after Brown had written him in San Francisco that he had money for him. Ward swore that Brown told him to get what money he could and they would divide, but he would not toe for Rushforth's plans for any sum of money. At no time did Brown agree to vote for the plans. The architect told how he was worked out of the money and told of his moral struggle before deciding to agree to the payment. He said he did not know the money was to be used for bribery as no hame was used when Bulson talked with him.

For the defense four Supervisors swore that Brown at all times favored Saifield's plans at all times. This, with evidence of good character, made up his case. One more witness will be called in the morning and the case will go to the jury.

One Man Killed and Nine Others Injured by an Explosion.

TULARE. July 17.—A threshing machine engine exploded this morning, instantly killing a man named Mitchell, and fatally wounding Engineer S. Cornish and seriously wounding eight others. Clarence Towrey, 18 years of age, though not a member of the crew, was standing in the rear of the engine, looking on. He received the full force of the explosion, and, being hit by flying fragments, was instantly killed. Walter Carlton is most seriously injured of any of the wounded, and it is miraculous that he lives at all, considering that he was standing directly in front of the firebox, which, with the main part of the boiler, was blown fully three hundred yards. His case is almost hopeless, his body being burned nearly all over and his head badly cut.

Henry Nofeinger is another whose recovery is doubtful. He is badly scalded over most of the body, and has been almost in convulsions. John E. Roberts, lying under the water-tank a few feet away, was scaleded about the head. His Many theories as to the cause of the explosion are advanced. Henry Evans, the regular fireman, quit this morning, and Walter Carlton was working in that capacity as relief, though he was not experienced in that line, and he was last seen stuffing straw into the fire when the gauge stood at 120, and the machine was not running. Four horses that were near were knocked down, but were not injured beyong a shaking-up. The engine was entirely demolished and scattered over the surrounding fields.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.,) July 17.—On October 29, 1893, George Johnson, a cowboy, was shot in the back on the outskirts of Prescott by a man with a double-barrelled shedgun, both barrels being emptied into him, killing him almost instantly. John Chart, then a well-to-do stockman, for whom Johnson had formerly worked, was arrested and charged with the murder.

On the first trial the jury disagreed and later he was tried again, convicted and sentenced to life-imprisonment. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court, and, in December, 1893, this tribunal reversed it, remanding it to the lower court again for trial. Meantime Chart's attorney was appointed district Judge, and being disqualified the case has hung fire until today when Judge Bethune of Tucson commenced the trial of the case, a jury being impaneled this afternoon.

SACRAMENTO, July 17.—This afternoon Police Officer Maley and Chief Engineer Guthrie of the fire department caught George H. Bitther in the act of setting fire to the Eureka restaurant on J street, between Fourth and Fifth. Since July 3 the place-has been fired seventeen times. Insurance agents had cancelled policies on the premises, and business men in the neighborhood had become greatly alarmed.

Guthrie and Maley were rewarded this afternoon by catching Bittner in the act of applying matches to inflammable material. Bittner is about 25 years of age, and was employed as the cook in the restaurant. Maley is of the opinion that Bittner was trying to scare the owner of the restaurant, Mrs. Lindsey, in order that he might purchase it at a low figure.

THE SHARON ESTATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—After an existence of ten years the Sharon estate trust will soon be dissolved and the property distributed, except so far as it is deemed advisable to hold some portions intact, the heirs sharing in the income from those portions.

Under the will of the late William Sharon, who died on November 3, 1885, a trust was created to last ten years, at the expiration of which the heirs, Frederick Sharon, Lady Hesketh, nee Sharon, and the two children of Frank Newlands, were to divide the property. In less than four months the term of the trust will expire and many preparations have been made. One of the most important deals has just been consummated, or rather the last transaction of a series, involving the disposal of a valuable property, has been made. At one time the Sharon estate owned one-quarter of the stock of the Bank of California, amounting to 7500 shares out of a total of 30,000. For three years, this stock has been sold in small lots until rather less than 2000 shares remain. Now the balance, all but thirteen shares, has been sold in a block to a local syndicate of capitalists at the market rate of $220 a share, involving a transaction of about $500,000 in round figures.

A GIGANTIC SCANDAL.

San Quentin.

JULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) SAN FRANCISCO, July 17. - The Chronicle will print an article tomor-row morning to the effect that Gov. Budd is investigating what promises to be a gigantic scandal concerning the management of the State prison at San Quentin. There is said to be ground for believing that men high in authority are implicated in a scheme to sell a portion of the product of the jute-mill for their own profit. An instance pointing toward this conclusion is said to be the fact that J. W. Vanderbilt, the shipping clerk, has been in the habit of keeping two books containing the bills of lading, an official record and a record for his own information.

When questioned by the Governor with regard to the existence of the second book it is said that Vandervilt at first denied that he kept more than one record of the bills of lading, but later admitted that he did. It is also said that the integral of the property of the admitted that he did. It is also said that the jute-mills are not turning out more than one-half of the manufactured product that they did under Warden McComb's administration, but 'his assertion is met by the prison officiais with the statement that the mills are running only half the number of hours that they formerly did. The Chronicle says the investigation has not proceeded far enough to indicate who is at fault even if the charges are true.

THE DIVORCE MILL.

MRS. CORBETT'S SUIT IS ABOUT CON CLUDED.

The Pugilist Will Pay Her One Hun dred Dollars a Week for Life-He is Now at Asbury Park-

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, July 17.—(Special Dispatch.) Because Corbett, the puglist and actor, frequently wandered from his own fireside to pay attentions to other women, his wife, who was Miss Ollie Lake of San Francisco before she cast per lot with Corbett, is suing for a divorce. There was a hearing of the case on Monday before Referee Jacobs. Tobett and a certain Vera enter the state-room of a sleeping car at midnight. The couple did not emerge until morning. The hearing was continued today. The good-looking blonde plaintiff was on hand early, and seemed to enjoy the proceedings. She was accompanied by her friend, the actress, Marie King, who has been her principal witness. When Miss King told of the loving conduct of the fighter to Vera Stanwood, which was such as to impel Abe Hummel to remark of the couple that they "were very much mixed," Mrs. Corbett laughed as easily as any one. Miss King was the only witness of the day. She had heard Corbett introduce Vera Stanwood as his wife in one city, where Corbett's "Gentleman Jack" company played, in his dressing-room. The witness could not state definitely in what city this had occurred.

"Did you ever see Corbett act lovingly to the woman?" asked Hummel. "Yes; when we were on the train on the way to Zanesville, O., Corbett and she sat together. Her head was reclin-ing on his shoulders, and he had his arms around her and his head was on her shoulder. "Did I get that mixed?

"Not much," Lawyer Hummel said attitude, was it?"
"Yes, it was," said Miss King, as one who knows. "Did you ever see her registered as Mrs. Corbett?"

"Yes; at Canton, O. The members of the company went to their rooms arriving at the hotel. Afterward went to the office and saw Mr. and Mrs. James J. Corbett on the register. I am not familiar with Corbett's writing, for I cannot say that he put it there, but all along she was known as Mrs. Corbett."

Lawyer Hummel then said as there were matters in the articles of separation signed by Corbett and wife which he did not care to have made public, he would not offer the statement in evidence. He said that it was agreed that Corbett should pay his wife 5100 a week for life, and he hoped the defense would take that into consideration in fixing the amount of permanent alimony, both sides being willing to have it remain at that figure.

sides being willing to have it remain at that figure.

ASBURY PARK, July 17.—(Special Dispatch.) One of the sensations of these pleasant days is the appearance on the board walk each evening of "Gentleman Jim" Corbett and a strikingly handsome woman known here as Miss Vera Stanwood. They live in a Miss Vera Stanwood. They live in a rented cottage, where they have been for the past two months together with Corbett's brother, Joe. MISS RUSSELL'S FOURTH.

NEW YORK, July 17.—(Special Dispatch.) There is talk that Lillian Russell may soon obtain a divorce and marry for the fourth time. At least, it is certain that she has a devoted admirer whose attentions do not seem to be disagreeable. Any one living at Manhattan Beach realizes the fact who sees Walter Jones, the actor, getting up at 6 o'clock every morning to make tracks for Great Neck, the summer home of the fair singer. There was a time when Jones's exertions as the tramp in "1492" used to tire him so much that he found it utterly impo As Great Neck does not indulge in the luxury of midnight trains, it is impossible for Jones to return to Great Neck after the performance at Manhattan Beach, but he always arrives in time for breakfast. In fact, this Rusgell-Jones affair is worrying a number of persons. Miss Russell is anxious to have Jones in "The Tzigane" next sea-son, and both of them are making noble efforts to break the contract with Manager Rice. Rice, of course, will not listen to such a thing, and Miss Russell's managers are said to be averse to their star earning any more averse to their star earning any more notoriety.

In spite of the vigorous denials of both sides it begins to look as if another divorce suit and marriage were in order. For a year and a half now Jones has been anxious to become a member of Miss Russell's company. Last summer when the fair Lillian went to England, Jones had engaged his passage on the same steamer, but by exercise of a little diplomacy. Manager Rice persuaded him to stay here. Jones is 23 years old, and Miss Russell is not.

Land Boundaries in Spanish Call-

(July Overland:) The indefiniteness of boundaries was an intense aggravation to the new comers, used to the exactness of English land laws. One native when questioned as to his domain answered, "That mountain at the east is the southeast corner of my rancho, the timbered country which you see in the distance is my northwest corner, the other corners of my land are rather indefinitely marked at present, but I shall have the rope applied to them also, as soon as the alcalde is at leisure."

Fromble is Imminent on the Omah Reservation.

RESULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
OMAHA (Neb.) July 17.—Tonight it looks as if serious trouble is imminent on the Omaha and Winnebago Indian reservation. Hon. W. E. Peebles and G. S. Harris, a committee appointed by the evicted farmers, are in Omaha tonight reservation. Hon. W. E. Peebles and G. S. Harris, a committee appointed by the evicted farmers, are in Omaha tonight purchasing Winchester rifles and ammunition to arm one hundred men to resist Capt. Beck and his armed Indian police. Feebles tonight said: "We are in Omaha for the purpose of buying one hundred Winchesters and ten thousand cartridges.

Tuesaay Judge Norris of Ponca issued an injunction restraining Indian Agent Beck from ejecting the settlers from the Winnebago reservation. Beck has disregarded the injunction and has been and is now putting the settlers off the lands which they have leased from the Indians.

"We are not warlike people in Thurston county, but we propose to see that the law is obeyed. After the injunction was issued and served on Beck. instead of calling off his police, he continued his evictions, arresting and handcuffind men like convicts. The women and children his Indian police put into wagons and hauled to the boundary line of the reservation where they were dumped into a heap. Their personal belongings have been left without protection to be destroyed by the herds of cattle that may range through them.

"Today a paper was prepared and circulated among the business men and by the citizens of the town. When we left between fifty and sixty signatures had been secured, each man pledging himself to the following: We the undersigned citizens and residents of Thurston county, agree to support the sheriff of the said county in executing the order of the State courts.

"Each subscriber has agreed to rupply himself with a Winchester rificand one hundred cartridges, all to be placed at the disposal of the sheriff of Thurston county. As soon as enough subscribers had attached their names to the agreement to convince the people that they were in for business Harris and myself were appointed a committee to come to Omaha and buy the rifes and one thundred cartridges, all to be placed at the linguage of the sheriff of Thurston county. As soon as enough subscribers had attached their names to

SUPPOSE PLL SWING FOR THIS, HE SAYS.

The District Attorney Takes Thes Guilt-The Prisoner's Wife in Subjected to an Interview.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) PHILADELPHIA, July 17.-H. H. Holmes, alias Herman Mudgett, is al-leged to have virtually confessed to the murder of two children whose bodies House in a two hours' interview with three members of the District Attor-ney's staff. "I suppose I'll swing for was the only remark dropped from Holmes's lips which in any tends to incriminate him , but the Dis-trict Attorney says that this is a prac-tical admission of guilt.

Notwithstanding Holmes's remark, his counsel says that Holmes was not in town when the Pitzel children were murdered. This, he says can be proven by Mrs. Howard, Holmes's third wife, at present living with her mother in Franklin, Ind. The authorities place but little credence in the alibitatory and are satisfied that Holmes is the murderer.

LOOKING FOR THE BOY. LOOKING FOR THE BOY.

TORONTO (Ont..) July 17.—A further search of the premises where the bodies of the two Pitzel children were found will be made in the hope of finding the missing boy Howard, aged 9, although the detectives are satisfied that he was murdered and cremated at Detroit. After the inquest, at which a verdict of murder is expected to be returned against Holmes, Detective Geyer will go to Philadelphia with a warrant issued by Canadian authorities and demand Holmes's extradition.

HOLMES'S WIFE. FRANKLIN (Ind.,) July 17.-Mrs. FRANKLIN (Ind.,) July 17.—Mrs. Georgiana Howard, wife of Howard, or Holmes, the insurance swindler, is at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Hoke, in this city. She goes at once to Philadelphia. Mrs. Howard received the notice at noon today. When asked about her knowledge of the Pitzel children she said: "Tpon that subject I have nothing to say."

She was told that it was reported that she would swear that Howard was not she would swear that Howard was not have nothing to say."

She was told that it was reported that she would swear that Howard was not in Toronto at the time the Pitzel children were murdered. She replied:
"I decline to make any statement on that subject." Mrs. Howard's mother here interposed with: "That is certainly not true."

Mrs. Howard said that she was at In-mere interposed with: "That is certainly not true."

Mrs. Howard said that she was at Indianapolis part of last September and October when Howard and the Pitzel children were there. Asked if she knew the Pitzel children and that Pitzel had disappeared, Mrs. Howard said: "Why, I never knew there was such a family in existence and how could I know what became of the boy? I never heard of the Pitzel family until my husband was arrested."

"Did you ever see the father of the children?"

"Yes; I knew him in Fort Worth, Tex., where he worked on a business block which Mr. Howard was building, but he went under another name. I did not know he had a family."

Mrs. Howard was asked what she knew abouts Howard having other wives and she replied that she knew nothing about it, but had heard it said that he had. Here Mrs. Hoke explained that there is no evidence that Howard ever married any other woman than her daughter, and said that her daughter and Howard were married in December and that the marriage certificate was in her possession. Mrs. Howard also stated that she and her husband had liyed in Fort Worth from February to April 1894, and after that almost everywhere. Mrs. Howard gave evidence that she knew just where to stop talking. She appeared to be uneasy that her mother would say something that ought not to be said.

The Trade Fell Through

The Trade Fell Through.

An Omaha real estate story in Munsey's Magazine relates that a farmer came into town, called at an agent's office, and said that he wanted to trade his farm for some city lots. "All right," the dealer repiled: "get into my buggy, and I'll drive you to see some of the finest residence sites in the world—water, sewers, paved streets, cement sidewalks, electric light and shade trees." They drove on for several miles, getting pretty far out into the country. The agent's horse went fast, and his tongue still faster as he expatiated upon the beauty of the surroundings, the convenience of the location, its proximity to the city, the abundant means of communication, the improvements reads or revolected, and the corrected the surrounding of the corrected and the corrected the surrounding of the corrected the surrounding of the corrected of the surrounding of the corrected of the co proximity to the city, the abundant means of communication, the improvements made or projected, and the certainty of a rapid increase in the value of the lots. He had reached the middle of his oration when he incidentally asked his companion, "Where did year say your farm was?" "Oh," the other answered, "we pased it coming out here. It's about two miles nearer town."

Gemma Donati, Dante's wife, was a dame of portentous physiognomy and a deep, tragic voice. She henpecked him severely, a fact which perhaps explains the absence of her name from his writ-

Lo Buys a Hearse for a Wagon.

(New York Sun:) When the Nez Perce Indians received their money from the government for the reservation lands recently opened to settlement, they went, as is the custom of the red man under such circumstances, at once to the nearest town to spend it. A large number went to Farmington, Wash., and were taken with a craze for buying buggies and wagons. One old Indian, having a large allowance, could not find a vehicle that seemed to him to comport with his wealth, but finally wandered to the undertaker's stable and immediately fell in love with the hearse and wanted to buy it. The undertaker was astounded, but, being a man of business, sold it for a good, round sum. The Indian loaded his squaw and papooses into it, and, climbing on the box among the nodding plumes, drove proudly back to the reservation, the occupants lining up against the plateglass sides in great shape. The Indian agent protested, but the old man refused to give up his state carriage, and he regularly drives it to the neighboring towns with his family or his dogs inside.

THE COUNTY GOVERNMENT EX-PENSES. The Investor (Los Angeles) will tomorrow publish a full detailed statement showing the cost of the county government. As will be shown by it the expense was $605,205,70 for the first six months of the present year, an average expense of over $100,000 a month. This does not include any part of the bonded indebtedness nor the outlay upon property and improvements, nor has it anything to do with the city government expenses.

PRICES FOR APRICOTS. The prices or dried apricots are shading upward. Today 8% cents a pound was the offer

cie. Lower grades are a matter of "dicker" between buyer and seller without any fixed price. There are rumors flying about that sales have been made at 9 cents, but they could not be verified. Eight and one-half cents a pound is the best price offered this year. This is a raise of ¼of a cent on last week. There may be some few isolated cases where, for an exceedingly choice lot, a fraction higher may be obtained, but the probabilities are that $\frac{1}{2}$ cents will prove to be about the best price obtainable. It was possible for a better price to have been maintained, but the dryers themselves are mainly the cause why now it is not possible. They spoiled their market by entering into contracts early in the season at low figures, and the figures their made are now controlling this end of the market. If they don't make this year as much money as they might have done, let them console themselves with the philosophical fact that they have gained experience. That, in future, may be an indirect source of wealth if they don't go to work in the meantime to industriously forget it. 'dicker" between buyer and seller with-

BUSINESS IN JULY. The trade Review (Los Angeles) will say tomorrow in its summary of the last week's local business: "The hope of the most sangular are being realized, Report from Los Angeles wholesale desiers and jobbers are to the effect that compared with the same period in former years, July, 1895, has developed a welcome surprise. Of course there is a slight falling off since Juhe, but not what might have been expected, taking the same month of former years as a basis of comparison.

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. LOCAL BUSINESS GOOD. Dun's weekly review of trade on the Pacific Coast says business in Los Angeles continues good, and that the dull season that usually makes its apeparance in July is not in evidence this year. The the actual consumption of goods is such as to warrant rapid gain. Confidence appears restored, however, and money that has been long unemployed, is seek.

that has been long unemployed, is seeking investment.

'In Washington and Oregon conditions are far from satisfactory, but we are informed that there are some signs of a revival.

'In Northern and Central California trade is not all that could be desired, but shows quite a gain over last year.
The fruit crop is moving well, and fairly satisfactory resulta are reported.

''Locally, business is good. The dull season that usually comes in July is not yet in evidence, and trade for the first half of July is far ahead of last

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN. The regular weekly summary for the week ended July 18 for Southern California, issued by George E. Franklin. local observer, Los Angeles, is as follows:

San Luis Obispo and Ventura counties.—The weather generally is favorable; apricot-drying is in full blast, the crop is of extra quality, but short. Barley and wheat are heavy yields. The weather has been favorable for all purposes. Highest temperature, 98 deg.; lowest, 51 deg.

San Bernardino county—Finest crop of sugar beets ever grown; the percenperature during the week showed an average daily deficiency of 2½ deg.; the highest temperature was 70 deg.; lowest, 60 deg.; no rain fell, which was the normal condition. At Escondido the weather has continued cool with high morning fogs. Threshing is about completed in this section, and farmers are now placing their grain and hay upon the market. Corn in some localities is good and of excellent quality. Cantaloupes, watermelons, pears, early neather a real-are now placing their grain and hay upon the market. Corn in some localities is good and of excellent quality. Cantaloupes, watermelons, pears, early peaches, apples and plums are on the market, and are of fine quality. The prine crop is reported to be in good condition; a large yield is expected. At Fallbrook harvesting is over and threshing commenced: the yield of grain was up to the average. Apricot-drying was excellent, both as to yield and quality. The moisture is keeping near the surface in well-cultivated ground, and trees are making a splendid growth. Normal weather conditions prevailed. At Bernardo apricot-drying is about ended. No weather changes affected crops during the week. Highest temperature, 78 deg.; lowest, 52 deg.

Los Angeles county—Temperature is unseasonably cool and foggy, which has been detrimental to fruit-drying. Crops are generally looking finely. In Los Angeles city the weather was cooler than the season called for; temperature nearly 3 deg. less than weekly average; mornings cloudy or foggy; days clear. Highest temperature, 83 deg.; lowest, 55 deg. Lancaster: The weather was favorable for harvesting, which is progressing generally favorably, barley and wheat yielding more than anticipated. Pakadena: Slightly warher, but morning fogs continue to the detriment of fruit-drying. Apricots at the height of their season, and while the crop is about one-half in quantity it is of excellent quality. Peaches, are a heavy crop; early ones ripe. Prunes, big crop, necessitating propping; all other fruits fair; grapes set fair; oranges vigorous and healthy. Duarte: Temperature has been a little below the average, with cloudy or foggy nights and mornings. The weather has been damp, and fruits dried slowly. Early peaches are ripe; drying begins in a few days; crops are lobking well. Highest, temperature, 98 deg.; lowest, 57 deg.

INCOPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were yesterday filed by the Cerritos Sugar Company, formed for the purposes of manufacturing and dealing in all kinds of products of sugar beets or cane, and of developing and distributing electricity and water rights. The principal place of business is Los Angeles.

The five directors are: Thomas Flint, George H. Bixby, Liewellyn Bixby, Frank J. Capitain and Edward F. Dyer, Trac capital stock of the corporation amounts to $800,000, divided into $4000 shares of the par value of $200 each, all of which is actually subscribed, each one of the directors owning one share, and the Bixby Investment Company the remaining 3995 shares.

Wholesafe Quotations Revised Daily.

LOS ANGELES, July 17, 1895.

There are few changes of late in the local markets and prices seem to have reached the sticking-point. Wheat is lower. Tomatoes are quoted at 85c per box. A new consignment of grapes are in market at 85c/1.00.

(The following quotations are for average grades of the products mentioned. For an extra choice article a somewhat better price than the highest quoted can usually be obtained, while for a product of decidedly inferior quality the seller will probably have to accept less than the lowest published quotation.)

A suggestive indication of a pernanence in values is semboiled in the fact that continental buyers, who have hither-to held aloof in the hope that when English and American buyers at the Lon-lon sules had quite "filled up," they might have the sevantage of a temporary decline, have been active purchasers during the past week. This may be regarded as a good indication that higher prices have come to stay, and had the manufacturers must accept the situation as it is. It is possible that the directors may decide to make no new appointment. It is not improbable that the directors may save Towne's salary of $25,000 by combining the directors and save Towne's salary of $25,000 by combining the directors. formed with those of some other official, thereby saving $10,000 annually.

H. E. Huntington, the nephew of C. P.
Huntington, and his assistant as president, is now in the East, but started for San Francisco upon learning of Towne's death. His election as second vice-president is considered probable. The Southern Pacific directors will meet tomorrow, but will transact no business further than to adopt resolutions of regret for Towne's demise. If a new general manager is appointed, the choice will probably lie between W. G. Curtis at present assistant general manager and J. A. Fillmore, general superintendent.

ATLANTIC AND PACIFIC FORE-CLOSURE.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The bill filed in the office of the clerk of the United States Court in Albuquerque, N. M., by the United States Trust Company, trustees under the first mortgage of the Atlantic and Pacific, asking for fore-closure and sale of the property, is assed upon no interest having been paid on the first mortgage since the road went into the hands of receivers in January, 1894. It is understood by the Atchison people from the filing of the bill that the Reorganization Committee, which represented the interests of thirst-mortgage bondholders, contemplates applying at an early day for a separate receivership. It is understood, however, that the Atlantic and Pacific Committee does not desire to break away from the Atchison system, but think that their interests can be better looked after by a separate receivership, while at the same time maintaining all existing traffic relations. Should such a motion be made, it is not certain what position will be taken by the Atchison interests, but they will presumably object very seriously to such a change being made in the management of the property.

What is commonly called the Atlanbeing made in the management of the property.

What is commonly called the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad extends from Albuquerque, in New Mexico, through Arizona, to Mojave, Cal., a distance of $18 miles. The road owned by the Atlantic and Pacific, however, extands from the Rio Grande, thirteen miles west of Albuquerque, to the Colorado River, which is the eastern boundary of California, a distance of 565 miles. The road was built in the interests by the Atchison and St. Louis and San of California, a distance of 565 miles. The road was built in the interests of the Atchison and St. Louis and San Francisco road for the purpose of affording those roads transcontinental routes, and it has heretofore been handled as a part of the Atchison system. The present receivers of the Atlantic and Pacific are Aldace F. Walker, J. J. McCook and J. C. Wilson, who are also receivers of the Atchison and St. Louis and San Francisco companies. This receivership was established in a suit brought by the Mercantile Trust Company, trustee under the second mortgage. The bonds secured by the mortgage, as well as the great part of the common stock of the Atlantic and Pacific, are assets of the Atchison and Frisco receiverships. The United States Trust Company, trustee for the first mortgage, has been made a party to the suit in which the receivers were appointed. The latter mortgage secures about $18,000,000 of bonds, which are the first lien on the 575 miles of road above stated, together with the valuable land grant of the company.

The situation is complicated by reason of the fact that the Atlantic and Pacific Company, from the crossing of the Colorado River at Needles, west to Barstow, where it connects with the

GETTING TOGETHER.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Chairman Caldwell of the Western Lines Passenger Association has issued a call for a meeting of the Transmissouri lines to be held in this city July 25. The meeting will be held for the purpose of clearing away, as far as possible, the obstacles which have heretofore prevented the establishment of a passenger agreement west of the river.

The presidents' agreement for the maintenance of east-bound rates from Chicago, which was practically dictated by J. P. Morgan, is already becoming baggy at the knees. Charges of rate-cutting are made on all sides, and most of them are founded on fact. Tomorrow is the day set for the presidents' agreement to become operative in full force, but contracts have been made within the last few days which involve tonnage which cannot be handled before the end of the month. It will go hard with the road which after tomorrow commits the sin of being found out, so it is understood, Mr. Morgan has announced. But it is a sure thing that two or more roads out of Chicago will take their chances.

It is asserted that if the franchise is given to Mr. Clark or his colleague it will be used only as an independent entrance to the city for the Pasadena line which is now in operation, and the rival road will never be constructed.

WOMAN'S PHILANTHROPY,

The "new woman," when she is prac tical, and does not devote herself to rainbow-chasing, to the pursuit of impractical and impossible ideals, is often an altogether admirable creation, injecting new energy and life into so ciety and effecting a good deal which, under the old regime, such as obtained fifty years ago, it would have been ime for her to accomplish.

Who ever heard in those far-away times of club life for women? Such ociation was then unknown and undreamed of. But the woman's club where practical life work is considered ment that enters into the life of today and is one of the features of Woman is benevolently inclined, and, as a philanthropical reformer, can reduce her theories to very exact prac tice. She knows the wants and the eeds of her sex better than men do and is better able to help women to help themselves than men are.

The world is to be congratulated that bman is sufficiently emancipated from ancient customs and ideas to take upon her own shoulders great movements which depend solely upon th co-operation and support of her sex for their success. Woman, as an inde pendent entity, is becoming a power or good when entering philanthropic fields, and carrying out her grand schemes for benevolence. We give her credit where credit is due, and work ing in a womanly way she may move the lever of the universe.

We are pleased, in this connection to notice the action of the Chicago Woman's Club, which has taken a wise step in practical philanthropy by unititself with sixteen other clubs, and renting and fitting up a building in the art of that great Western metropolis, as a model lodging-house and workshop combined. They have formulated the wise plan of establishing a sewingshop and laundry in connection with the lodging-house, and intend to make

There is no encouragement in this movement to idleness. Those who would find a home in this house must work, and, willing to work, they can secure the necessary comforts of life, be they never so poor and homeless. The honest, self-respecting poor woman would turn cheerfully to such a haver for the assistance she needed, and in our great cities there is a wide field for woman's effort in this direction. There is a significant suggestion in this move ment of Chicago's noble women to the great company of women's clubs ughout the country, Let them act upon it and combine together for prac-tical benevolent purposes, and to help carry on the work of relieving the destitution of their poorer sisters by furnishing the means whereby they nay be enabled to help themselves.

THE LATE A. N. TOWNE.

The ten-days' debate begun at Chicago between ex-Congressman R. G. Horr and W. H. Harvey, author of "Coin's Financial School," be a lively one. It will not settle the currency question, but it will bring out some of the salient points on both sides, and will thus, perhaps, lead to a better understanding of the issues involved. With a better understanding of the question, the cause of fiatism repudiation will surely lose ground. The debate is hardly neces sary, for the flat-silver craze is as good as killed already. they were burying was actually dead led to the postponement of a burial service at Torrington. It was the most unusual and thrilling grave episode that has ever happened in this State and caused great excitement.

Miss Maria Elchner, the daughter of William Elchner of Newfield, two miles from Torrington, committed suicide by taking a dose of "rough on rats." The cause of the suicide is said to have been a cruel rumor. Her father received a letter; from a man who charged Miss Elchner with improper conduct. She indignantly denied the report, but the story so preyed on her mind that she determined to end her life.

story so preyed on her mind that she determined to end her life.

When the casket was opened for a final view of the remains just before lowering into the grave, several friends noticed that Miss Elchner's countenance was flushed and life-like. There was a good deal of color in the face and the hands felt warm. The more they thought about it the more the young lady's friends became convinced that if she were buried then she would be buried alive. Finally a member of the family protested against the burial taking place and the body was returned to the house. A physician was summoned who pronounced the young woman dead and after watching the remains all night for signs of returning life the body was buried.

The reason the physician gave for the The reason the physician gave for the life-like appearance of the corpse was that the corrosive sublimate in the "rough on rats" tended to prevent coagulation of the blood after death, which gave a rosy, life-like glow to the face. The warmth of the body, he ascribed to the ride of two miles in the hearse, whose glass sides concentrated the rays of the sun.

There is little doubt that the "rustlers" never reached Springview, as, should they be turned over to the authorities, it would make trouble for Anspeker, owner of the stolen cattle, which were being herded on the Indian Reservation contrary to instructions from the Indian Department.

Councilman Snyder appeared before the board, stating that the bids received by the Council to furnish hay for the fire department had been referred to the Board of Fire Commissioners. Chief Moore and Commissioner Grider were appointed a committee to examine the hay offered for sale, and report to the board in the matter.

Chief Moore called the attention of the commissioners to the condition of a large number of fire hydrants in the city, stating that it was impossible to open some of them without using steam-fitters' tongs. In case of fires in the vicinity of these hydrants the danger would be very great. The Chief gave the following list of hydrants, which he declared were in very bad gave the following list of hydrants, which he declared were in very bad opndition: At the corner of Fourth and Broadway, Fifth and Broadway, Main and Washington streets, Twelfth street and Maple avenue, First and Soto streets, Washington and Figueroa streets, Adams and Figueroa streets, Buena Vista and Solano streets, Boyd and San Pedro streets, Pico and Starr streets.

The Chief explained that the hydrants had been ruined by the handling of ignorant persons, who were not familiar with the proper method of opening them. A motion was pussed, instructing the Chief to appear before the Council and explain the state of affairs to that body, urging them to take immediate action in the matter of repairing them.

WATER WANTED.

The Park Superintendent Wrathful

Little, streaks of blue flame about the room occupied by Mr. Me-serve, in the City Hall yesterday morn-ing. Mr. Meserve is the gentleman who presides over the destinies of the city parks, sees that the flowers are all of the right complexion, that the public in general keep off the grass, and that the desk of His Honor, the Mayor, is kept supplied with the latest in floral nov-when a Times reporter wander through his office he was struck with the malignant expression playing over the face of the Park Superintendent, and ventured to ask the whenceness of the trouble. Then the Superintendent unbosomed himself.

"Do you remember, young man," said he, "on the occasion of the recent visit of the Park Commissioners, Councilmen and press representatives to the various city parks, how the lake at Hollenbeck Park, charmed the visitors, who took in its silvery beauty and were rowed over its placid surface—you remember that, do you?. Certainly, Well, what do you say—what do you think of the work of a set of men who will conspire to ruin that piece of loveliness, by depriving the lake of its supply of water? That's exactly what is being done, and it makes my blood boil as I think of it."

and it makes my blood boil as I think of it."

Continuing in a calmer tone of voice Mr. Meserve stated that the lake is in the habit of receiving water from the zanja above Brooklyn avenue, in Boyle Heights, which water runs along St. Louis street for several blocks before it again reaches the city zanja, and on St. Louis street is where the rub occurs. The Water Overseer, Mr. Shaffer, notified Mr. Meserve several days ago that the custom of running water on St. Louis street would have to be stopped, as there were objections being made to the water as a nuisance by residents on the street, who complained that the road was being ruined by the running stream.

was being ruined by the running stream.

"Then," said the Park Superintendent, "I went to the Street Superintendent and got a permit from him to have the street used for this purpose. I showed it to the Water Overseer. He said that amounted to nothing—I must get the consent of the residents on the street. So I interviewed the people and they told me, with but one exception, that they were delighted to have the water run in front of their houses. The one exception is the man who complained to the Water Overseer. I told the overseer of what the people had said to me. He gravely informed me that I would have to get the written consent of the people on the street before the would have to get the written consent of the people on the street before the water could be turned on. That is part of the explanation of my wrathful state of mind. I'll tell you the other part. I happen to know that the deputy water overseers, Mr. Herb and Mr. Ellis, are both bitter enemies of Mr. Workman, who, of course, is very much interested in the park. Ellis has had a great deal of trouble with Mr. Workman, in the past on political and other lines, and is only too glad to be able to do him an injury. Ellis lives on St. Louis street, and is raising all this rumpus himself, solely to spite Mr. Workman, and injury, if he can, the park, in which he knows Mr. Workman is interested. Mr. Ellis has declared that the water for the park shall never run down St., Louis street, unless he is given positive orders to that effect. Mr. Shaffer, the Water Overseer, will give us no satisfaction, but simply refers us to his deputy, and there we are, The water in the lake has fallen sixteen inches in the last week and there will be mud-holes galore in the pretty lake if this thing is kept up."

Mr. Shaffer, when asked about the difficulty with the Park Superintendent, stated that complaints had been made to him of the water being allowed to run in St. Louis street, and he had simply, allowed his deputy, Mr. Ellis, to use his own judgment in shutting off the water. He was not aware of the disastrous effect of the change on the lake in the park, but considered the wishes of the property-owners on St. Louis street of more importance than the state of the water in Hollenbeck Park. When told of Mr. Meserve's statement concerning the attitude of the property-owners on St. Louis street, Mr. Shaffer remarked that he would "take a look at the street" himself. Not because of the roar Mr. Meserve was making over the matter, but merely to satisfy himself, so Mr. Shaffer declared. of the people on the street before the water could be turned on. That is part

A number of witnesses had been subpoensed to testify before the committee, but none of them appeared. The committee waited in patience for a short time, but as the prospects for investigation seemed unusually poor, the committee took an adjournment for an indefinite period.

A report of their labors will be presented to the Council on Monday, and that will be the end of the procedure, so far as the committee and the Council are concerned. It is probable that the grand jury, which meets in September, will take up the case, and it is possible that with compulsion moving the witnesses, something definite may be arrived at in the, at present, complicated case.

Mrs. Ormandy Held to Answer fe

by sec. 45, and that it is now entitled to prove its claim and share in the dividend. The provision of the United States Bankruptcy Act on this point was in the same language as that of sec. 46 of the Insolvency Act. The decisions of the United States courts under that act were to the effect that such a payment was not equivalent to a surrender, and that after judgment in an action by the assignee for the recovery of the value of the property received it was too late for the creditor to surrender the property and claim the right to share in the dividends. The same doctrine has been declared in many other decisions under that law. The principal reason given is that the word "surrender" in the act implies a voluntary act on the part of the creditor, and that a surrender of the property or a payment of its value after a judgment has been rendered against him is in no sense his voluntary act, and is not such a surrender as is contemplated by the law. The decisions are made by able judges, are well considered, and should be followed. During the course of the examination, the stove and countarfeiting implements were brought fato court, and proved conclusive evidence of the woman's complicity in the counterfeiting operations, as it would have been impossible for machinery of that size and character to have been in the house without her full knowledge of its presence and use.

Mrs. Ormandy was held to answer in the District Court on the charge of complicity is the origin of counterfetting money. There was trouble again in Judge Young's court yesterday for M. P. Bowen took up the greater part of the morning in vigorously prosecuting a suit against Mrs. Martha Carey, to recover $100 commission for the alleged sale of the Grand View House, a lodging-house in this city.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Pave Our Streets.

Pave Our Streets.

LOS ANGELES, July 17, 1895.—(To the Editor of The Times.) For some months past the Superintendent of Streets has had a small gang of men at work upon our paved streets, but they, it seems, have become victims of the spasmodic attacks of economy which periodically visit our city fathers. The paved streets of our city (in their present condition) are a standing disgrace to our spirit of enterprise, and a constant menace to life and limb. A case in point: While walking on Spring street this afternoon I saw two old ladies, in their haste to get out of the way of a rapidly-approaching electric car, pull their buggy into one of the holes of which the street abounds, when crack went a spring, down came a wheel, and out tumbled two respectable, very badly scared and somewhat injured old laddes. Now, Mr. Editor, we paid roundly a very few years ago for the paving of these streets, and to one in the shade it does seem a little strange that we should have to do the whole thing over again, when the expenditure of a comparatively small sum for repairs can keep these streets in some semblance of decency and order for some years to come. It is an unquestionable fact, as may be seen from the accounts of the street department, that the city can do these repairs cheaper and with better material than any contractor can possibly do. Then, why this pitiable cry of economy over a matter of so much importance? For the fair name of our beloved city, let's have some more paving done, and mighty quick at that. Yours, pany. An setion at law will settle the matter presentity, but meanwhile we are informed that hydrants in the very course of the city are incapable of usage. To repair these, and dispense with a little red tape in the matter, would be a very proper proceeding.

It is gratifying to learn of the honor shown our fellow-townsman, Dr. J. P. Widney, who has recently had conferred upon him by his aima mater, the Miami University of Oxford, O., the degree of LL.D., "in recognition of his scholarly attainments and public service in the cause of education." The honor was a well-merited one, and Dr. Widney's numerous Los Angeles friends tender congratulations to him on the judity-deserved recognition which he has received from the Ohio university.

The terrible tragedy which occurred at Long Beach yesterday has naturally caused great excitement at that usually peaceful hamlet by the sea. The murder by Meyers of his young wife appears to have been a most foul, and unprovoked crime. It is to be regretted that, the murderer did not succeed in ending his own miserable existence on the spot. The prospect that he will die is somewhat consoling, as it will ave the county and State the expense of trying and hanging him. Society has no use for such monsters, and the sooner they are out of the way the bet-

He said he noticed we were advertising to sell remnants at one half the marked price, and added he supposed there was nothing in it only to catch people's attention. If there is any benefit whatever in advertising it is not in lying. Advertising is beneficial when the public believes in what the advertiser says. The moment the advertiser disbelieves, that moment it will not pay to advertise. It may pay a newspaper to lie about its circulation; it doesn't pay an advertiser to lie about his goods. The good that comes from advertising is not from boasting. This is an age of reason and good sound common sense. Be explicit, concise and truthful. Say enough and not too much. Keep faith with the public. Unless this is done keep away from all advertising. There is more money lost in poor advertising than there is made in good advertising. We say remnants at half price and we mean remnants at half price. That means exactly what it says. All wool remnants cotton remnants silk remnants. Eays. All wool remnants, cotton remnants, silk remnants, velvet remnants all at one-half the marked price. They are all on one counter and are all marked in plain figures with the original price. A four-dollar remnant is sold for $2; a 50c remnant is sold for 25c. We have been overhauling our salespeople as well as the stock. Each one has been forewarned that if another lot of remnants is ever allowed to accumulate again in any one department their services will be dispensed with at once. We are taking a big loss on this lot of remnants. You will receive the benefit; there will be no more remnant sales at a loss; you will make money by taking advantage of this, There is a lot of cotton goods that originally sold for 25c to 50c a yard; they were marked down to 121/c; now at one-half, they sell for 64c a yard. Silks that sold as high as $2 a yard, were marked down to $1; now the remnants are selling for 50c a yard; this is plain, and it is the trutb without any varnish to gloss it over. Ladies' Sailor Hats 50c.

They are selling all around us for $1 and $1.25; all new within a week; all high crowns; black and white, plain black and plain white; trimmed with a good quality of ribbon and equal in style and quality to any ever sold for twice the Father-Howard Squires Will Try for a Record Today Beeen Here and Riverside.

Everyone is taking to the gay and estive bicycle, from the Czar of all festive bicycle, from the Czar of all the Russias to the farmer's son. Even the wife of the President of the United States and her little daughter are among the millions who enjoy the democratic two-wheeler, and a few days ago ex-President Harrison came out in high praise of the bicycle as an offset to the bright yarn of a special friend who had quoted Gen. Harrison as saying, in a fake interview, that bicycles were the invention of the prince of without going over the unlimited crop of cycling beginners.

That there is a growing interest in road-riding in this part of the world is shown by the preparation to organize several riding clubs on the plan of the hustling Roamers, who had so pleasant a run to Monrovia last Sunday.

There is a boom in East Los Angeles, among the members of the East Side Cycling Club. The members of this enterprising club scatter enthusiasm wherever they may be. Last night this club met at the home of Fitz Lacy and decided on many matters in connection with the clubhouse they will soon open. This will place them one peg ahead of any other wheel club in Southern Callfornia. Most of the other clubs are satisfied to have even rooms. The membership is now about thirty and the present officers are: President, Harry White; vice-president, William McKeog; secretary, treasurer, D. C. McGarvin; contain A. Jay: first lieutenant. Ben White; vice-president, William McKeeg; secretary-treasurer, D. C., McGarvin; captain, A. Jay; first lieutenant, Ben Tyler; bugler, T. Dockstader. Next Sunday's run of the East Side Cycling Club is to Santa Ana and last Sunday the East Siders had a run to Santa Monica.

Harrison was himself buying two bicycles and shipping them to Saratoga from his home to be used by his daughter and her young son. If the truth were known it would be probably shown that both the present Chief Magistrate and the ex-President have known how to handle a bicycle for some time.

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA WITH HIS WHEEL. Nearly every wheelman in the Southwest has heard of Harry and "Bob" Terrill, the well-known racing men of San Francisco, and will sympathize with them in the loss of their father, who died this week after a short illness. William A. Terrill, who has been doing so well on the Bastern circuit, has been called home by his father's fatal filness and will probably remain at home. Many will remember Harry Terrill, who took part in the class A races in this city on the 25th of last month.

city on the 25th of last month.

Last fall Eddle Bald, the Buffalo racing man, won the mile international class B championship and at the same time established the mile competition record for the year. This record was not touched until Bald broke it himself at the San Jose races in April, but soon after that wonderful race of last year a rival racing team got up a fake competition race to take the record from Bald. Tyler made better time, but it was really only a record ride and not a real race. A similar case has just come to light.

This morning, bright and early, Howard Squires of Redlands will start from Riverside to ride to this city and return against time. He hopes to break the record of 11h. 23m., established by Peach of South Riverside, and will reach Cycle Row, South Spring street, about 10 o'clock.

The run of the Roamers' Road Club for next Sunday will be to Verdugo Canyon, leaving the Eric Cyclery on South Main street at 8:30. Many lady riders will participate in the run, and lunches will be carried.

"Around the World on a Bicycle." the drama that is to be given at the Los Angeles Theater on July 31 and August 1 to 3, inclusive, is being rehearsed daily under the management of a well-known theatrical man, who is spending his vacation in the city. It is getting along finely, and the proceeds of the play will be used as a nest egg in building the $10,000-bbcycle track, proposed by the Los Angeles Wheelmen. One scene of the play shows the Santa Monica road race taking place.

The Times is now carried daily by bicycle to Redondo Beach, San Pedro and Long Beach. By the use of the bicycle over three hours are saved.

Herbert McCrea left for the Salt Lake races Tuesday, going by the northern route. Will Knippenberg, who leaves this week for St. Louis and Indianapolis on business, expects to see Wells and McCrea ride at Salt Lake.

The sixteenth annual meet of the League of American Wheelmen has just been held at Asbury Park, N. J. and thousands of wheelmen and wheelwomen assembled there for the three days of racing. The rain and hall delayed the racing, but the first half of last week was perfect. The Board of directors of the Cham-

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon with Directors Cohn, Forman, Jones, Klokke, Mullen, Patterson, Slauson, Vetter present, and President Patterson in the chair.

A communication was read from the secretary of the Transmississippi Congress, which meets in Omaha in November, asking what subjects the chamber would like to have put in the list, of topics to be discussed at the convention. It was decided to suggest the Nicaragua Canal, cheaper transportation for Western products and the improvement of Pacific Coast harbors.

Director Klokke reported in behalf of the committee appointed to look into the matter of an exhibit at the Atlanta Fair, that a number of members of the chamber who had formerly been residents of neighboring sections of the South had been interviewed, and expressed great interest in the undertaking and promised co-operation in the effort to raise funds. It was decided to take no further steps in the matter until the meeting of the supervisors of the State at San Francisco next Wednesday.

Bargains That Will Create a Sensation

In some countries of Europe Bargain Sales are considered as injurious to legitimate trade, and as a result the governments of those countries have taken a hand to suppress in a measure these so-called illegitimate dealings of the merchants. We are of the opinion that our "sales" are not looked upon as an injury, but as a source of profit to the business community as well as to dur customers. We bespeak for our Bargain Sale for the next few days more than ordinary values, and would advise all purchasers of dry goods to consult your own interests and visit

LONG BEACH, July 17.—(Special correspondence.) Last evening's lecure was prefaced by a delightful pre-Correspondence.) Last evening's lecture was prefaced by a delightful prelude, consisting of song and recitation. Prof. Cornell sang the "Creole Lover's Song," by Dudley Buck, and received prolonged applause for the pleasure given. Miss Marion Gertrude Hards of Ontario recited in a most captivating manner Owen Meredith's "Aux Italiens," H. Edward Earle accompanying on the piano. Miss Hards responded to an enthusiastic shore and pleased the audience very much.

President Weller read at latter, from Prof. T. S. Of Lowe in response to a request for terms, for an excession to Echo Mountain. Prof. Lowe extends an invitation to the assembly to visit the great include, offering transportation from Altadens to the bench Mountain, entertainment was light at the hotel, with supper and freakfast above the clouds, access the observatory and use of telescope and an inspection of the valley below with the great searchlight. The expense of this will be $3.50. General Passenger Agent Wincup of the Terminal makes the return trip to Altadena $1. Total expense of the trip will be $4.50. Amid the cheers and applause, as he stood upon the platform, Colfax said: "General, won't you make a few remarks." Grant replied, tremblingly, "No, can't I go down now?" And he went down. The entire address was full of most interesting information, and was received by the great audience with much satisfaction. Everybody sincerely wished that the tramp who stole the doctor's valise on the way here would return the valuable papers and other prized squvenirs of that memorable four years in Washington, which treasures were carried by him for use in the lecture.

prised squvenirs of that memorable four years in Washington, which treasures were carried by him for use in the lecture.

The Bible reading in Romans, under charge of Dr. Frost, was largely attended, between three and four hundred people being present. The audience read in concert, and Dr. Frost commented upon the passages read. Frequent questions were asked and answered, and short discussions were had.

Rev F. M. Larkin continues the discussions in the Bible Noormal Class, taking up the chronology and divisions of Old Testament history. The antediluvian period was conneidered, the character of the period, its important events and characters. The bible account of the period was carefully discussed.

The School of Art and Design is attracting much attention. The display of art work, the productions of pupils, speaks for itself. The classes in this department are quite large already. The sketching-class finds ample opportunity to develop at least in marine scenery. The decorative art class is in charge of Miss F. Bell of San Francisco, a member of the Keramic Club of that city and an artist of high standing in her line of work, Miss Bell is confected with the Marlborough school for the coming year, her studio there being open to students outside the shool. Her system of instruction is the bread style, as opposed to the ordnary, and the designs are all of the latest. The work relates to porcelain and pottery of all kinds, and includes fifting, a kin being provided for that purpose. The hours for this class are 8 to 10 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m.

The art needle-work, in charge of the Braselman won medals at the World's Fair upon several pieces now on exhibition. This class mets at 2 o'clock. Prof. Cornell, who has charge of the

A DEATH TRAP.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING ON SECOND STREET.

The Leland Hotel While Undergoing Alterations Suddenly Toppled Over Yesterday.

Three Men Were Seriously and Sev eral Slightly Injured-Many

The Disaster Caused by Lack o Proper Precautions by the Con-tractor—The Building Rules Were Disregarded.

A few miutes before the noon hour yesterday a casualty occurred at No. 226 East Second street that was dire in its consequences, but might have been a great deal worse. It was the collapse of a three-story lodging house, but fortunately it occurred at a time of day when few of the lodgers were within, else the list of victims might be long. As it was only three persons were seriously injured. They

WILLIAM HAHNAFIELD, plasterer; back badly sprained and right ankle broken.

Besides the above named victims several persons were slightly injured and others had the good fortune to be able to crawl out of the wreck unhurt. able to crawl out of the wreck unhurt.

The building which collapsed was the Leland Hotel, a rickety frame third-class lodging house, owned by Peter Johnson. It was patronized principally by workingmen, which fact accounts for its having so few occupants when the disaster occurred. The house was originally a two-story board structure, but had been raised ten feet for the purpose of making room for stores under it. It is owing to this fact that the building collapsed.

The old rookery was constructed in such a filmsy manner that it was folly to attempt to raise it, but this could have been successfully accomplished if the proper precautions had been taken.

if the proper precautions had been taken.

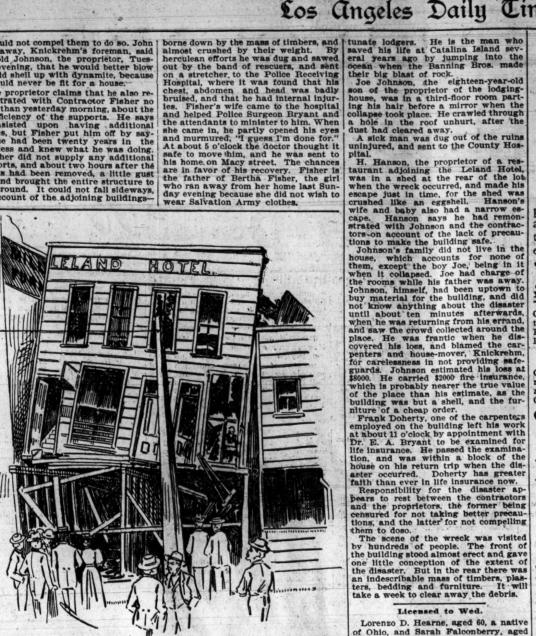

Johnson first engaged William Knickrehm, a house-mover, to raise the structure, so that an additional story could be built under it. He started Knickrehm at raising the building without first having obtained a permit from the Superintendent of Buildings. William Smith, one of Knickrehm's workmen, became so alarmed that he threw up his job after working three days. He said he considered it unsafe to proceed. Then the Superintendent of Buildings came along and stopped work on the building altogether, because Johnson had not secured a permit to make the alterations contemplated.

After about a week's delay Johnson

he could not compel them to do so. John Hathaway, Knickrehm's foreman, said he told Johnson, the proprietor, Tuesday evening, that he would better blow the old shell up with dynamite, because it would never be fit for a house.

it would never be fit for a house:

The proprietor claims that he also remonstrated with Contractor Fisher no later than yesterday morning, about the insufficiency of the supports. He says he insisted upon having additional braces, but Fisher put him off by saying he had been twenty years in the business and knew what he was doing. Fisher did not supply any additional supports, and about two hours after the blocks had been removed, a little gust of wind brought the entire structure to the ground. It could not fall sideways, on account of the adjoining buildings—

William Hahnafield, a plasterer, was in a front room of the top story, and when he felt the floor giving way under his feet, he jumped out of the window, landing on the sidewalk about twenty-two feet below, badly spraining his back and breaking his right ankle.

Thadeus Graybeel, a laborer, also leaped from a window and fractured both ankles. Hahnafield and Graybeel were both sent to the Receiving Hospital, and later to the County Hospital.

A. J. Oliver, an upholsterer, had a narrow escape from instant death. He said he had retired at 4 o'clock in the morning, and about 11:50 was awakened William Hahnafield, a plasterer, was so the soap makers say, especially if you're washing delicate things. Now, in the name of common sense, what's the use? When you can get Pearline, in powder form for this very reason, why do you want to work 'over soap, which, if it's good for anything, gets very hard and difficult to cut.

Besides, Pearline is vastly better than any powdered soap could be. It has all the good properties of any soap—and many more, too. There's something in it that does the work easily, but without harm—much more easily than any other way yet known.

Bewate "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back.

MEETING OF THE UNITED ORDER OF AMERICAN MECHANICS.

Mysterious Movements on Raymond Hill-Bither Protecting the Old Foundation or Preparing for a New Hotel-Frank Skinger Tried to Jump from a Car.

PASADENA, July 17.—(Regular Cor-respondence.) In Williams Hall Tues-lay evening Hon. James McLachlan and Judge A. B. Campbell addressed a meeting held under the auspices of the United Order of American Mechanics. J. A. Gafford presided over the assem-bly and, after the singing of "America," and a brief prayer by the chaplain of the council, Mr. McLachlan was introthe restriction of immigration, actment of laws requiring an educa-tional qualification for the voter, and the raising of the standard of citizen-by inculcating principles of pathe raising of the standard of citizenship, by inculcating principles of patriotism, and teaching to the foreigner the meaning of a democratic form of government. Mr. McLachian spoke briefly and to the point, and then gracefully made way for Gen. Campbell. That orator was at his best, and, in an enthusiastic and telling speech, advocated Americanism and patriotism. He said that there was not room under our skies but for any flag but ours, that we want a schoolhouse patriotism that takes in the whole country and makes no difference between the State and the nation in loyalty, that national principles must be upheld. He characterized the mission of the American citizen as Godgiven, in that he was set the task of demonstrating to the world the principle of self-government. The orators were voted the thanks of the meeting before the adjournment.

RAYMOND MATTERS. Just what Walter Raymond intends oing on Raymond Hill cannot be defi-itely learned, for those who know-are on-committal, and those who do not non-committal, and those who do not know are either over-sanguine or entirely skeptical. It is certain that he is having the foundation of the building strongly and substantially repaired as though there was to be erected upon it a structure very different from a pavilion, and, as the lines of the old building are being preserved, and the work is being pushed, about fifteen masons being employed, there are people who believe that Mr. Raymond has secured in the East the necessary funds for the construction of the new Raymond, that it will be rapidly pushed to completion, and that before the first day of the new year it will be opened for business. Again, it is stated that to preserve the foundation, which is worth at least $30,000, it is necessary to carefully repair the ravages of the flames, and floor it over, but if no hotel is to be built, at some time or other, that work would be wholly unnecessary. It is stated that Mr. Raymond has materially changed his plans, but in just what the changes consist nobody seems to be able to tell.

BADLY SHAKEN UP. As Frank Skinner, an employee in a airy on Bellefontaine street, was about As Frank Skinner, an employee in a dairy on Bellefontaine street, was about to alight from an electric car about 10 o'clock Tuesday evening, Conductor Orricalled out to him to wait until the car stopped, and gave the signal to the motorneer. Mr. Skinner evidently did not hear the warning, or was confident that he could get off safely, and when the conductor repeated it, jumped as the car was slowing up for the stop, and fell heavily to the ground, striking on the left side of the head and the left shoulder. He was picked up unconscious and taken to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Hodge, the company's surgeon, attended to his injuries and then sent him to his home on Cypress street near Mountain avenue. He was unconscious at intervals all night, and today is suffering great pain in his waking intervals, sleeping heavily with stertorious breathing, when not roused by his attendants. Just how serious his injuries may prove, can not yet be by his attendants. Just how serious his injuries may prove, can not yet be determined, but the shock and consequent concussion were terrific, and he narrowly escaped with his life. The accident emphasizes the foolhardiness of attempting to alight from the electric cars while they are in motion, for, they run so smoothly that their actual rate of speed, even when slowing up, is much greater than would be thought by the casual observer. Mr. Skinner remembers nothing of how he fell, but the conductor's story is corroborated, and it is certain that he is wholly blameless of the accident.

HOWLAND'S DUPES ARE LOYAL Notwithstanding that the fake "Rev." Howland has been convicted of a grave crime against the laws of the land; that he has been detected in practices so bestial that he was found unfit to herd with the common criminals of the County 'ail, and isolated from them, because they, though degraded and victious, are still men in whom some spark of manhood and decency still lingers, there are persons in Pasadena so besotted in their admiration of him, so self-deceived and wilfully blind, that they encourage him in his enormities by giving him material aid. This afternoon a reporter of The Times went into the Wells-Fargo Express office upon an errand, and found there a well-known Pasadena woman, who was engaged in sending to the "Rev." Howleand at Ban Quentin it is in cash, by express. She made no secret of her errand, though the woman who accompanied her as far as the door-of the office had the dispretion to remain outside. Joe Holden, the young man who has been the dupe or accomplice of the reverend fraud, was on the streets this afternoon, dressed in the height of style, and looking unabashed by the disgraceful notosiety he has achieved through his patron. The tar that sticks to the skirts of Howland adheres to all those who espouse his cause, and the women who are sending him money are, without doubt, those who solaced him in jail with flowers and good things. The said Teuton, Franz Herman, objected to Mr. Byer's dog, and because the animal persisted in digging for gophers in his master's yard, Franz descended upon him and "licked" him, to the great wrath of the canine's owner, who declared that his dog could do as he pleased upon his own ground, for it was his own, since his master paid for the use of it, and if Herr Herman could not see the justice of the argument he would enforce it by punching his head and demoishing him generally. Oswald Richter Found Dead-Conference on Temperance.

SANTA MONICA, July 17.—(Regular Correspondence.) Such members of the community as were acquainted with Oswald Richter, for some months clerk in Devine's drug, store, were shocked this morning to learn that he was found dead in his bed at his room in a lodging-house on the beach. But little was learned at the inquest held this forenoon, except that he died from too much morphine. The jury was unable to say whether the intent was suicidal or otherwise. Richter was about 30 years of age, and a well-educated, competent druggist. A brother from Los Angeles was advised of the death, and came down and took charge of the remains. The theory of suicide lacks rational basis. Deceased was a native of Silisia, Prussia, and recently came here from New York. He was unmarried. About fifty representatives of the Congregational Association of Southern California met with the local members here yesterday, and devoted the day to a discussion of temperance as a part of church work. The attendance was good at the three sessions, and the addresses of a high order. Lunch was enjoyed by visitors and residents at the Arcadia Pavilion. The speakers of the day were Rev. H. P. Case, State superfintendent of Sunday-school work; Dr. Bowers, editor of the Volce; Rev. E. E. P. Abbott, Slerra Madre; Rev. Charles Valle, Los Angeles; J. H. Harwood, D.D., Rev. George Morris and Rev. D. Lloyd Jenkins. The evening session opened with music under the direction of Frank Burnham of Pasadena, who also read an original poem. Brief addresses were delivered by Dr. Reid, Pasadena; Rev. E. O. Tade, Ayalon, and Evangelist Frank Smith. The church here claims to be the most consistent of any along the temperance line, for, besides being christened Prohibition Congregational, it refuses not only the licensee membership, but licensers as well, while most of the religious bodies content with exclusion of the former only.

The same court also sat for examination of Henry Wilson, the old soldier who undertook pistol practice on a comrade at the Home Saturday afternoon. The old man is past 73, and is not in full possession of his faculties. He explained that John Haley, his target, was too dirty to live, and ought to be shot. The original charge against the old man was dismissed, and he was allowed to plead guilty to assault, for which the court fined him $25.

THE ASSESSORIE and

THE ASSESSOR'S COW.

County Assessor A. G. Kendell takes a little recreation from his official duties by keeping a cow, the time occupled in milking and caring for the female bovine serving to lighten the cares of office and furnish the family with fresh cream for their berries and coffee. Last night, after the milking process was over, the amateur granger asked the cow to take a drink, an invitation which she accepted with such alacrity that she passed one horn through the arm of her owner. In consequence thereof Dr. Rowell was called in to dress a very-much-lacerated member, and Assessor Kendell is not doing any milking today, but he hopes to be well enough in a couple of weeks to have it out with her cowship for the cow-ardly act.

VISIT OF A PARTY OF CITIZENS AND DENIZENS YESTERDAY.

Output-Superior Modern Ma-chinery and Improved Methods-The Beet-growers-An Episode at Ontario.

Yesterday, upon the invitation of resident W. B. Wilshire, of the Wil-hire Safe Company of San Francisco, a party of gentlemen made an agree-able and informing trip to the Chino Sugar-Beet Company's works. Through the courtesy of Super-intendent J. A. Muir of the South-ern Pacific Company, the party was comfortably transported in his private car, leaving the Arcade Depot at 8:30 am.

The party included the following citizens and visitors: Hon. S. M. White, Hon. James McLachian, Mayor Rader, H. A. Hutchins of Chicago. H. G. Wilshire, S. Angeles; Maj. Ben. C. Truman, W. Patris, agent Pacific Coast Steamship Company; L. A. Grant, H. May, Walter R. Dinsmore, president Dinsmore Soap Company; A. C. Blicke, Warren Wilson, G. C. Bartels and Earl Bartels, Denver, W. E. Best, St. Louis; W. H. White, manager for Baker & Hamilton, in this city; Miss Jennie A. Wilshire, San Francisco; George W. Parsons, S. M. Parsons, Frank Cox, Phoenix; F. P. Flint, Los Angeles; J. F. Carrere, W. G. Young, and a representative of The Times.

With a well-equipped car, a pleasant day, a fenial company, and a delightful country to traverse, the trip proved an enjoyable one.

The great sugar works at Chino, now famous as the largest in the United States, have many times, and recently, been described in The Times, and another detailed description is therefore not given in this brief report.

At the factory the party was met and made welcome by Richard Gird, the pioneer in this important enterprise, assisted by Dr. C. Portius, superintendent of the factory; N. R. Cottmian, business manager of the beet-sugar company; Secretary J. G. Hamilton, Chief Engineer W. Baur; William Sandercock, superintendent of the ranch company, and by W. H. Holsbird, general manager. Vice-President J. G. Oxnard was temporarily absent, as was also his brother, Henry T. Oxnard.

The visitors were conducted through the immense establishment, and all showed the greatest possible interest in the various operations by which the striking saccharine results are produced. The immense array of machinery was the subject of admiring comment, but the time was too short to enable the visitors to "get onto the curves" of all the contrivances. They were only able to ascertain, from occular demonstration, that the great establishment is a large thing for Southern California, and a distinct honor to the pioneers, builders, owners and operators of the great factory.

Much of the machinery first put into the factory was of German construction, as none of the special devices for manufacturing beet sugar are yet made in the United States. More recently, however, a good deal of fine American machinery has been introduced for the production of power and kindred uses. The steam plant is of 2500-horse power, there are ten hollers, numerous engines, great and small, pumps, and all the paraphernalia of a complete power.

maninery has been introduced for the production of power and kindred uses. The steam plant is of 2500-horse power; there are ten boilers, numerous engines, great and small, pumps, and all the paraphernalia of a complete power; there are immense affairs, the battery being one of the largest in the United States, is fitted for the burning of aride petroleum which is consumed in great quantities, and with marked success.

The collipany has its own limestone quarry near Colton, from which great quantities are taken; it is burned at the works, and the lime used in the operations. Water in great abundance is lifted from artesian wells on the spot, or near the works; the consumption reaches 3,000,000 gallons per day.

The expansion of the business of growing beets, and manufacturing sugar has been most rapid and important. It is estimated that in the neighborhood of two thousand people are dependent upon the works, directly or indirectly, for employment. Of these, 350 are employed in the factory proper, and the pay-roil reaches $20,000 pounds, or 10,000 are employed in the factory proper, and the pay-roil reaches $20,000 pounds, or 10,000 tons. All, or substantially all, of this great product is consumed in California.

owing to an accident, part of the ma-chinery was not at work yesterday, so that the visitors were prevented from witnessing the operation of slicing up the beets, or seeing the machinery "chaw up" the fiber and squeze out the crude sweetness.

witnessing the operation of silcing up the beets, or seeing the machinery "chaw up" the fiber and squeze out the crude sweetness.

More and more land of the great Chino rancho is each year being planted in sugar beets, and as the growers become more proficient in cultivation, the product per acre steadily grows larger; the percentage of saccharine matter in the beets increases, and the profits of the farmers swell correspondingly. It is already a great industry, and destined to become still greater.

Before starting on their return trip the party was invited by the ranch manager to take a ride over a spur line out into the beet fields, in order to get a closer view of the sugar beet in his native lair. The side trip was enjoyed all the same as the entire expedition.

Returning, on arrival at Ontario, a stop was made, and, upon invitation of Secretary Franksh of the San Antonio Land and Water Company, a trip was made over the horse-car line running up the famous Euclid avenue, which extends from the town well toward the amountain's base. The unique journey was a delightful experience, especially to the tenderfeet in the party, several of whom had broken away from Chicago and other Eastern villages in order to see some of the big things of California. At a point five miles from Ontario the horse car was brought to a halt, the cavallos took passage on the train (riding on free passes in violation of the Interstate Commerce law) and the return trip was begun. The car descended the incline with a whiz and a whirr, and in fifteen minutes was again at the Southern Pacific track in Ontario. The members of the party unanimously voted that this original method of street car traveling was a great success; in short, that the true way to ride down till in a wagon is to load your team on. car traveling was a great success; in short, that the true way to ride down hill in a wagon is to load your team on the vehicle, open brakes and "let 'er go, Gallagher."

On arrival at Los Angeles the gratified members of the party separated, with many expressions of mutual satisfaction, and with thanks to Superintendent Muir for the courtesies and hospitalities which he had extended them, thus rounding out and completing the enjoyments of a pleasant day.

GOLDEN--riedical-DISCOVERY

The invention of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has, during the past thirty years, made a record in the cure of bronchial, throat and lung diseases that fairly entitles it to outrank all other advertised remedies for these affections. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing consumption of the lungs. Not every case, but we believe of all cases of consumption, in all its earlier stages, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, even after the disease has progressed so far as to induce repeated bleedings from the lungs, severe lingering cough with copious expectoration (including tubercular matter), great loss of flesh and extreme emaciation and weakness.

Do you doubt that hundreds of such cases reported te us as cured by "Golden Medical Discovery" were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, whe have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty codliver oil and its fifthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophosphites had also been faithfully tried in vain.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six certs in stamps. You can then write those cured and learn their experience.

In the Police Court yesterday G. S redericks and Herbert Drew were fined $1 each for obstructing the side

Three of the colored crap-players, whose trial has been dragging along or some time—Honcock, Johnson and Thompson—were acquitted. Two of them, Stafford and Jameson, were found guilty and will be sentenced to-morrow.

William McMann was given a sixty William McMann was given a sixty days' sentence for petty larceny.
Nellie Swain was given a thirty days' sentence for smoking opium. She will also have to serve the ninety days' "floater" given her some time ago for vagrancy, so it will be four months before Nellie can smoke opium again.
J. G. Elias pleaded guilty to the charge of smoking opium and was fined $20, which he paid.
Thomas Simpson, a street preacher, was on trial for disturbing the peace.
When the testimony was all in the court took the case under advisement.

He Never Came Back.

He Never Came Back.

The young man who was found in an oplum joint with Nellie Swain Monday afternoon by Deputy Constable Bosqui and who gave the name of Frank Cumings when arrested, turns out to have been an impostor. His true name is Frank Ware, but on the supposition that he was Frank Cummings of Boyle Heights he was allowed to go on his own recognizance to get bail, and he never came back. The real Frank Cummings has been greatly annoyed over the use of his name by the culprit.

Riders are warned that the L. A. W., through its racing board, has sole jurisdiction over all cycle racing in the United States. The erroneous idea prevalis among those who are uninformed that the board enforces its rules only against members of the league. All riders in the United States are classified as amateurs of class A or B, or as professionals, in accordance with the league's definitions of such classes, and so soon as a rider enters a competitive event he becomes subject to the supervision of the racing board. Any rider competing in unsanctioned events, amacompeting in unsanctioned events, ama-teur or professional, will be promptly suspended from all track racing.

THE ULBRICHT CASE. The protest of Emil Ulbricht against rulings of referee in the twenty-five rulings of referee in the twenty-five-mile race at Los Angeles May 18, 1895, has been been dismissed. The contest being an invitation race, for which spe-cial conditions were formulated and the competitors being advised of such con-ditions by service of a copy on each, they were bound thereby. The referee's rulings were entirely in harmony there-with and should stand.

Will Get Her Divorce.

NEW YORK, July 17.-There was an-NEW YORK, July 17.—There was an-other hearing today before Referee Ja-cobs in the suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Oille Corbett. Miss King, a mem-ber of the dramatic company, with which James Corbett traveled, continwhich James Corbett traveled, continued her testimony as to the relations between Corbett and the woman Vera. Miss King related instances of display of affection as the company was traveling in the railway cars. In Corning, O., she had seen upon the hotel register the entry: "J. J. Corbett and wife." It was agreed between counsel that the referee's report should be in favor of the plaintiff and that alimony be fixed at $100 a week. An adjournment until July 20 was taken in order that testimony might be obtained from the West.

A Gold Shipment.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Nesslage, Colgate & Co., shipped $100,000 in gold on the steamship St. Louis today.

The Evening Post says of this shipment, the amount of which it places at $70,000: It was taken from the subtreasury on assay checks, which means that they put as much gold in the Treasury as they drew out. In banking circles the shipment was regarded to be a picayune matter that would not have the slightest effect on the situation although it was generally believed tion although it was generally believed the chief object in making this ship-ment was to affect the stock market."
